FIFTY-SEVENTH YEAR No. 32 LINCOLN, NEB., FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 7, 1958 SEVEN CENTS

THIRD MOON SHOT POSTPONED

—Brooks Margin At Least 2,700—

Tabulation Of Mail Ballots Begins Today

FINAL TALLY WON'T BE READY UNTIL WEEK FROM FRIDAY

By Don Walton

Tabulation of the crucial mail vote begins Friday in Lincoln, Omaha and at scattered county courthouses throughout the state. Final totals will not be available before Nov. 14.

At stake is the governorship of Nebraska, with all its accompanying power, prestige and patronage.

Some 7,700 absentee voters, whose ballots must be postmarked by midnight, Nov. 3, hold the answer to Nebraska's burning political question:

Has Democratic Ralph Brooks ended the GOP's 18-year reign at the Statehouse?

Margin 2,700-2,900

His margin over two-term Gov. Victor Anderson Thursday hovered between 2,706 votes and a 2,919 margin.

Revised figures by the major wire services showed:

AP: Brooks, 207,576; Anderson, 204,657.

UPI: Brooks, 206,901; Anderson, 204,195.

Playing for keeps in a contest whose winning chips could provide them with the only office from which they can effectively rebuild a strong state party, Democrats will have county chairmen and an attorney at all 93 courthouses Friday, National Committeeman Bernard Boyle of Omaha told The Star.

It is understood there is a possibility that Republican representatives will also make appearances.

May Watch Opening

Party officials may watch the opening of envelopes and the identification check which precedes placing of the ballots (not unfolded) into ballot boxes.

It is generally agreed that they would need a court order to watch actual counting of the ballots, although the law is not clear-cut on absentee ballot counting.

Huge Douglas (1,224 absentee ballots) and Lancaster (826) Counties may begin counting Friday, though they are required to leave 25 unopened ballots in the counting box until all absentee votes are received.

Deputy Election Commissioner Pat Boyles said counting in Lincoln will begin Friday, but he said he did not plan to release any results until Nov. 14.

That's the date all counties will have their mail vote tabulated.

Only If All In

County canvassing boards other than Douglas and Lancaster may begin counting votes Friday only where all mail ballots have been received.

If all have not yet been returned, the county board must adjourn to the second Friday after election, Nov. 14.

Since all mail votes must be in county offices by 10 a.m., Nov. 13, all county boards will have their totals Nov. 14.

The secretary of state's office must have the totals by Nov. 24.

Final Canvass Dec. 1

Final official decision comes Dec. 1 at a meeting of the state canvassing board.

In 1956, a Republican year, Gov. Anderson added approximately 15,000 votes between the unofficial Associated Press totals and the canvass report.

His Democratic opponent, Frank Sorrell, gained about 8,000 votes.

On the basis of unofficial 1958 tallies and the projected absentee ballot count (all may not be returned) Brooks would need but one of 3 votes to win.

A December recount may lie in the future regardless of the outcome.

Also hanging on the mail ballot count are Democrat Richard Larsen's apparent upset victory over J. Monroe Bixler for state treasurer, and Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney's triumph over Democrat Frank Sorrell.

Cautious optimism that Gov. Victor Anderson would gain enough votes through the absentee ballots yet to be counted to win the election was expressed by several persons around the Statehouse Thursday.

The governor, however, maintained silence on the subject outside of his earlier comment that he would make no definite statement with the vote so close.

Atom Talk Stall Stirs President

. . Plans Announcement

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower conferred Thursday with key government officials regarding the deadlocked East-West talks at Geneva on ending nuclear weapons tests.

The White House said afterwards that there will be an announcement on the matter Friday at 9 a.m., EST.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to provide any detail on the President's hour-long conference with Secretary of State Dulles, Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles and Paul Foster of the Atomic Energy Commission.

No Hint

Nor would he give any hint as to the nature of the announcement scheduled for Friday.

The Geneva talks started Oct. 31. A deadlock promptly developed over Russia's insistence that the United States and Britain agree with the Soviet Union on ending tests forever.

The West has taken the position there must be agreement first on a system of inspection and has proposed an initial one-year suspension with inspection safeguards.

Plan Advanced

Geneva (AP)—Britain Thursday advanced a plan for international control of a ban on atomic and hydrogen weapons tests based on the assumption that a tacit test suspension already exists.

Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore acted in consultation with the United States.

Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union have not tested nuclear weapons since their 3-power conference opened in the Palais Des Nations a week ago.

Self-Imposed

The British plan rested on the theory that this self-imposed prohibition can be kept going almost indefinitely if progress is made in establishing a control system to prevent cheating.

A communique said the British delegation "submitted a paper on some initial points requiring consideration in the setting up of an effective international control organization."

Prosecution To Present Caril's Statement Today

. . . Starkweather 'Doesn't Care' Whether She Lives

By Del Harding

County Atty. Elmer Scheele is expected to complete his case against murder defendant Caril Fugate Friday in Lancaster District Court.

Scheele is expected to attempt to introduce into evidence parts of the 166-page statement Caril gave authorities Feb. 2 concerning the winter murder spree on which she accompanied Charles Starkweather.

Although she refused to sign the statement, Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch has said that after it was read back to her she said it was "true."

Mrs. Merle Karnopp, wife of the county sheriff, is expected to take the stand at 9 a.m. She accompanied Caril back from Douglas, Wyo., and was present when the statement was taken.

Defense Case Next

After Scheele completes his case, defense Atty. John McArthur will begin his attempt to prove that his 15-year-old client was Starkweather's hostage on the murder rampage, and that she had no part in the death of Robert Jensen of Bennet.

Caril is charged as Starkweather's accomplice in the Jan. 27 shooting of 17-year-old Jensen.

It is likely Scheele will need most of Friday to wind up his case, and McArthur may not begin his presentation until Monday.

Starkweather was on the stand for 4½ hours Thursday to complete the 2½ hours of testimony he began as a surprise prosecution witness Wednesday.

Admits He Lied

He admitted on cross examination by McArthur he lied and gave conflicting statements to lawmen concerning

Ice-Isle Rescue Started

. . . 20 Stranded

Anchorage, Alaska (AP)—A hazardous rescue mission, being carried out in the inky darkness of the never-ending, winter Arctic night, has been started to pluck 20 men marooned on an ice floe ripped apart by a violent storm.

Maj. Francis Dawson, public information officer for the Alaskan Air Command at Elmendorf Air Force Base here, said two rescue planes had departed from Thule, Greenland, on the rescue mission.

Their goal is a 10-foot thick floe which split apart Sunday 300 miles from the North Pole, marooning an International Geophysical Year scientific team stranded in 24 degrees below zero on one-half of the floe.

Dawson said the C123 and C54 which left Thule were expected to land and rescue the marooned men early Friday.

Delay

The rescue attempt had been delayed 4 days while wild Arctic winds tore at the tiny floe and raked a refueling station at Ellsmere Island, the most northerly land in the northern hemisphere.

The severed ice island, floating in the Arctic ocean 960 miles northeast of Barrow, Alaska and 600 miles northwest of Thule, had been used since last year as an Arctic scientific station.

The 11 Air Force men and 9 civilians were unhurt when the island severed in severe blizzard, but were isolated. The 2,000 foot aircraft runway used to supply the station was on the section of the floe which split away from the campsite.

The men were on the campsite half of the island when it broke apart. The other half of the island has a landing strip, 2,200 feet long. The men must cross open water to the landing strip when the rescue planes appear.

Court Awards Caril Half Of Betty's Estate

Two sisters who listened intently to testimony at a murder trial Thursday — one as the defendant, the other as a spectator—became recipients of the estate of their half-sister, one of 11 murder victims.

Acting County Judge Ralph Slocum Thursday ruled that the estate of Betty Jean Bartlett, not yet 3 when she died, would go to her nearest of kin, Caril Ann Fugate and Mrs. Barbara Von Busch.

Betty Jean's estate, which amounted to $782.75, was ordered divided equally between the two half-sisters of the dead baby who was killed at approximately the same time as her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bartlett.

The estate included monies and properties of the elder Bartletts which were ruled as the property of Betty Jean after their deaths. As administrix of the estate, Barbara Von Busch also received a $50 fee.

The probate of the will which was completed Thursday while the two girls were listening to confessed killer Charles Starkweather again relate incidents about the killing of the Bartletts on Jan. 21. Starkweather admitted killing the two elder Bartletts.

Technical Difficulties Halt Lunar-Orbit Try

. . . Space Agency Studies Reschedule

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (Friday) (AP) — An attempted launch of a lunar probe was posponed early Friday, presumably because of heavy rains which flooded the Cape's launching area.

Officials at the missile test range said the postponement was due to technical difficulties.

The scheduled time for the firing of a rocket was less than an hour away when the word of the postponement came.

The 3-stage launching rocket, more than 88 feet tall, had been due for firing at 1:22 a.m.

There was no indication as to when another attempt was to be made, but the early morning hours of Saturday and Sunday were the two remaining periods this month when a moon shoot is most likely to succeed.

The Air Force announcement of the postponement referred not to a moon rocket but to "operations pointing toward an early flight of an experimental U. S. space exploration vehicle designed to gather scientific data as part of the U. S. International Geophysical Year program."

Extremely heavy rains turned much of the low, flat sandy Cape area into a morass of gray mud.

The flooding of conduits and power lines on the Cape in heavy rains have caused trouble in the past with various rockets.

Queen Frederika of Greece and her daughter, Princess Sophia, were on hand to watch the expected takeoff of the rocket.

The postponement was announced by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The moon shot was to have been made at 1:22 a.m. EST Friday from Cape Canaveral, Fla. But shortly before 12:45 a.m. a space agency spokesman made the announcement to reporters.

Reschedule

He said he had received word to that effect from Cape Canaveral.

He said that the space agency was now trying to determine when the attempt would be rescheduled.

Attainment of the vicinity of the moon would represent a major step beyond the achievement of Pioneer I.

Launched Oct. 11, the first Pioneer followed a trajectory steeper than had been planned, and therefore failed to attain the velocity needed to carry it to the vicinity of the moon.

Pioneer I lost its forward momentum about 90,850 miles from the earth. Falling back, it was destroyed on re-entry into the atmosphere 27 hours after launching.

The technique of firing a tiny device from one rotating and orbiting sphere, the earth to another a quarter of a million miles away involves precise calculation. For this reason a lunar probe launch has its best chances of success in only 3 days out of a month, and then for only 15 or 20 minutes a day. The 3-day period for November ends next Sunday.

Shelton Man Dies In Crash

Shelton, Neb. (UPI)—Frank Nazzise, 73, Shelton, was killed Thursday afternoon when the pickup he was driving collided with the rear of a parked pickup, the Nebraska Safety Patrol said.

Nazzise's pickup collided with another parked along a county road half a mile west and 1¾ miles south of here at 2 p.m., the Patrol said.

His death was the 280th of the year compared with 246 a year ago.

Higher Readings To Follow Lows

Cold temperatures as low as 16 at Alliance settled over the western half of the state Thursday but cloudy skies and warmer temperatures are forecast for Friday.

The high was 59 at Beatrice. Lincoln had 54 and 30, the Weather Bureau said.

A few scattered light showers are forecast for the extreme northwestern portion.

Winds are expected to move across the state bringing the return of low temperatures by Friday night, the Bureau said.

Highs are expected to range from 55 to 65.

—Flush With Victory—

Union Demands Labor Overhaul

AFL-CIO Seeking An End To Right-To-Work Laws

Washington (AP)—The AFL-CIO, flush with election victories demanded Thursday an end to the state right-to-work laws which ban the union shop.

The federation's executive council called on Congress to knock out these union-hated devices by taking away the federal sanction given them in the Taft-Hartley Act.

It pressed, in fact, for an overhaul of the whole act, which has governed labor-management relations since 1947.

And in another reaction to the Tuesday elections, Sen. Clifford Case (R-NJ) said the Democrats were able to increase their hold on Congress as much as they did because of a drop of public confidence in the Republican party.

Case said the Eisenhower administration had not been aggressive enough in its handling of foreign affairs and the business recession.

It was disclosed Thursday that President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon held a private conference at the White House on the election results.

Hikes Margin

These results increased the Democratic margin in the Senate from 49-47 to 62-34 and the Democratic edge in the House from 235-200 to 281-153 with one race undecided.

Details of the Eisenhower-Nixon conference were not revealed, but it had already become apparent that Nixon is taking charge of efforts to get the GOP back into real contention for the 1960 presidential and congressional races.

Nixon, 45 years old and a top prospect for the presidential nomination, is expected to emphasize efforts to get young, attractive candidates on the Republican tickets for Congress and state offices. He is known to have been unhappy with some of the 1958 party choices.

The Vice President is also expected to make a pitch for the organized labor vote and to continue his backing for civil rights laws attractive to Negro voters.

Less Influence

Southern Democrats resisting these civil rights measures are likely to have less influence in the new Congress, because of the election of new northern and western Democrats.

The newcomers will dilute the southerners' party strength, but veterans from the South will continue to hold the bulk of the Senate and House committee chairmanships.

Nine of the 16 regular committees in the Senate will be chairmaned by southerners, as will 12 of the 19 committees in the House.

President George Meany reported on the meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

He told a news conference that the right-to-work issue in 6 states, notably California and Ohio, contributed to the large turnout of voters Tuesday.

Voters rejected proposals for right-to-work laws in California, Ohio, Colorado, Washington and Idaho. They approved one for Kansas. These laws ban the union shop and similar contract arrangements that require workers to be union members. Eighteen states, not counting Kansas, have such laws.

Harrisburg Rancher, 28, Electrocuted

Harrisburg, Neb. (AP) — A 28-year-old Harrisburg rancher, Richard Sears, was electrocuted Thursday when a pipe he was handling came in contact with a 7,200 volt power line about a quarter mile from his home.

Banner County Sheriff Jim Snyder said Sears, accompanied by his 3-year-old daughter, Candy, was moving some metal irrigation pipe and noticed a rabbit in the pipe.

Snyder said Sears lifted the 26 foot length of pipe to shake out the rabbit, and the end of the pipe came in contact with the power line.

Cindy ran to the house to summon aid, but Sears was dead.

Sears and his wife have another daughter, Sally, 10 months old.

He was a grandson of the late Congressman Willis G. Sears of Omaha where he was born July 7, 1929, and graduated from Benson High School.

Starkweather Puts On Battle In Courtroom

. . . Plays Bigger Part In Caril's Trial Than In His Own

By Nancy Ray

Playing a much larger part in his ex-girlfriend's trial than he did in his own, Charles Starkweather managed to evade or refused to answer the skillful questions of the defense aimed at unraveling the web linking Caril Fugate as a willing participant in his January murder spree.

Cocky at times, sullen at others, Starkweather put on a courtroom battle which was as unexpected as his sudden appearance for the defense Wednesday.

About one thing Starkweather was very firm but patient. "I don't want to talk about those murders. I've told you that already," he answered Defense Atty. John McArthur.

An audible gasp from spectators and participants filled the courtroom when Starkweather, co-operating with McArthur in explaining the functioning of a .22 rifle, took the gun from the attorney's hands and stood for a moment alone with the murder weapon in his possession. The gun, of course, was unloaded.

In one line of questioning which met with Starkweather's approval, McArthur scored a point for the 15-year-old defendant. Asking Starkweather whether he felt he had killed because his victims were threatening him, McArthur received the reply that "they wouldn't have gotten hurt if they'd left me alone."

'Wasn't Worried'

But when the defense attorney tried to follow up the point by asking Starkweather what he would have done to Caril if she had tried to tell somebody about the murders, Starkweather balked:

"She wasn't going to talk. I wasn't worried about her talking. . . It didn't enter my mind."

Starkweather answered a question which had been in the minds of many of the spectators, and perhaps the jurors also, when he told McArthur that he consented to testify against Caril "because they asked me to."

"I knew they'd make me come down here anyway," he added under further questioning, but denied that any force had been used on him by county officials

Simple Answer

"You weren't afraid they'd put you in jail if you didn't testify, were you?" McArthur asked.

Starkweather smiled wryly and answered a simple "no" which brought a burst of laughter from the crowd followed by a stern admonition against further such demonstrations from Judge Harry Spencer.

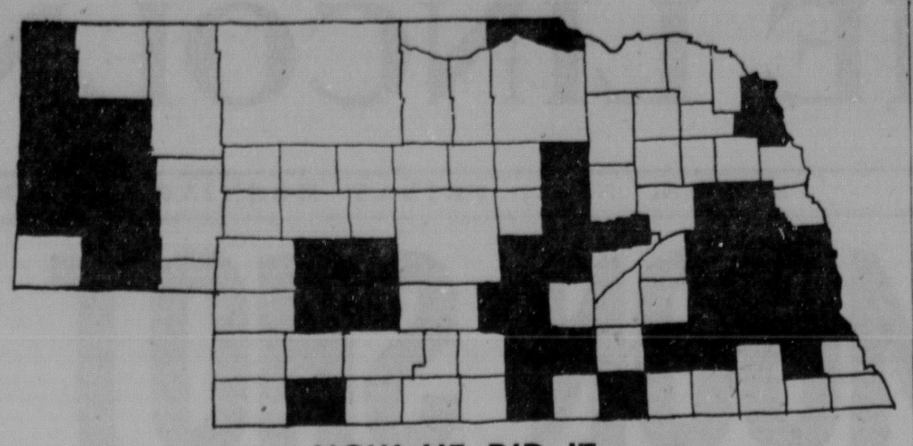
Caril wept briefly and quietly while her attorney read again the Starkweather confession statements about the Bartlett killing but otherwise she retained her composure during most of the testimony, and did not show surprise when her former boyfriend admitted he didn't care "whether she is alive or dead."

He demonstrated his disinterest in his former companion when questioned on why glasses which are necessary glasses which are nexessary for him to see across the courtroom to where Caril was sitting.

"I don't feel like putting them on," he explained.

"Don't you want to see?" McArthur questioned.

"There ain't nobody here I want to see," the redhead retorted.



HOW HE DID IT

Here's how Democrat Ralph Brooks pulled his apparent astonishing upset victory over Gov. Victor Anderson. Dark area indicates the 34 counties won by Brooks, including a surprising share of heavily-populated eastern Nebraska. The light areas represent Anderson's 59 counties, including a big chunk of sparsely-populated northwestern Nebraska. Brooks won Adams, Banner, Box Butte, Boyd, Buffalo, Butler, Cass, Cheyenne, Colfax, Dakota, Dodge, Douglas, Fillmore, Franklin, Greeley, Hitchcock, Howard, Johnson, Kearney, Lancaster, Lincoln, Morrill, Nance, Nuckolls, Otoe, Saline, Sarpy, Saunders, Scotts Bluff, Seward, Sherman, Sioux, Thurston and Wheeler. Anderson won the rest. (Star Map.)

City's Utility Tax Must End Dec. 11

Amendment Makes Lincoln's Levy Unconstitutional, Permits Another

By Virgil Falloon

Lincoln's contested 3% occupation tax against Consumers Public Power District will remain in effect no later than Dec. 11.

The city tax measure has been upheld by the District Court, but Consumers has appealed the case to the Supreme Court.

If the high court upholds the decision, the city will be entitled to some $40,000 in occupation taxes before the new state constitution amendment, approved by the voters goes into effect.

Proclamation Needed

The amendment would go into effect immediately upon gubernatorial proclamation, which must follow within 10 days after the official state canvass on Dec. 1.

If Consumers dismisses its appeal or the city tax measure is upheld by the Supreme Court, Lincoln is entitled to its levied occupation tax up until the constitutional amendment is proclaimed, according to city officials.

The amendment permits the Legislature to require power districts to pay a 5% tax (less present "in lieu of tax" payments) on their gross revenue from electrical sales in cities and villages. The amendment also specifically makes Lincoln's recently-imposed occupation tax unconstitutional.

Paid In Escrow

Under the amendment, Lincoln will receive only about two-thirds of the revenue it would receive under the disputed occupation tax.

Consumers has paid the disputed tax funds in escrow pending a final court decision.

Hijacked Airliner Is Safe

Havana, Cuba (AP)—A Cuban airliner which vanished Wednesday night is in rebel hands and all 28 persons aboard are safe, a qualified source said Thursday. It was the third Cuban airliner to be hijacked in little more than a fortnight.

The informant said radio messages from the Cubana Airline's DC3 reported the aircraft is being held on a rebel air strip.

The radio messages said the rebels promised to turn over all the 25 passengers, including one American, to the International Red Cross as soon as it can be arranged. No mention was made of returning the 3 crewmen.

Favorite Tactic

The hijacking of airliners seems to be developing as a favorite tactic of the rebels. After nearly 2 years of violence and bloodshed they apparently are no closer to their goal of toppling the government of President Fulgencio Batista.

In guerrilla war they have consistently avoided any showdown battle with numerically superior and better equipped government troops. They have created some fear with killings, bombings and widespread sabotage.

Among the 25 passengers aboard the plane seized was an American listed without address as Lane Robert Montgomery. He was believed to be a sailor or Marine flying to the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay.

Starkweather Says Caril Dictated Note

the murder rampage. But upon further questioning by Scheele said he lied only because he "was protecting Caril Fugate."

Starkweather, asked by McArthur if he cared whether Caril lived or died, said "it don't make any difference to me."

But asked if he wanted to see her convicted on "false evidence" he replied "I'd hate to have her convicted on false evidence."

'Caril Dictated Note'

He was asked about a note found on his person when he was captured in Wyoming Jan. 29 in which the death of 2½-year-old Betty Jean Bartlett was attributed to Caril (who was her half-sister). It also implied that Caril shot her own mother, Mrs. Marion Bartlett, and said "So far we have kill 7 persons."

Starkweather said Caril had dictated what to write and he had written it down while in the C. Lauer Ward home at 2843 So. 24th on Jan. 28. But he said Caril "got mad" and wouldn't sign it, so he signed both his and Caril's names to the note.

McArthur asked if when he wrote that note he was trying to "protect" Caril.

He replied "We didn't think that we would be taken alive —that's why we wrote that."

'Made Up Story'

Starkweather also said a story that he and several other youths were planning to hold up a bank and hold Caril as his hostage in her home was made up by both he and Caril while they were in the Marion Bartlett home at 924 Belmont between Jan. 21-27.

Scheele asked him if he ever tied Caril up at the Bartlett home and he replied "no." In the morning session McArthur had referred to a statement Starkweather gave lawmen in which Starkweather had said he tied her up the night of Jan. 21.

McArthur referred to Starkweather's written statements a number of times, pointing out alleged discrepencies in them.

'Hogwash'

Starkweather in reply during the afternoon session, said "like I said this morning, parts of that statement are a bunch of hogwash" and said he had lied to protect Caril.

Asked by McArthur if he ever said he'd like to have Caril sit on his lap when he is electrocuted Starkweather said "my attorney" suggested the idea and he had "agreed."

McArthur then asked if he still felt that way about Caril.

"I don't care what they do with her," he replied.

Later McArthur asked "Do you believe you're as sane as anybody?"

"Yes," was the answer.

"Do you realize at this time you did wrong?" McArthur continued.

"Yes," again was the reply.

"Are you sorry or wish that it hadn't happened?"

"Yes," he answered.

Referring to the afternoon of Jan. 27 when Bennet farmer Howard Genuchi pulled Starkweather's car from the mud near the school site where Jensen and his girl friend, Carol King were later shot, McArthur asked if he knew what he would have done if Caril had told Genuchi "of some of things that you'd done?"

"You mean some of the things we BOTH did!" Starkweather replied.

'Could Have Warned'

Starkweather said Caril could have talked and warned Genuchi if she had wished.

"She (Caril) was too worried about getting caught to talk," he declared.

Starkweather said the reason he shot Jensen was because Jensen "came back up the (cellar) steps" at him. He said he believed then he killed Jensen in self defense but knows now that "I was in the wrong."

Starkweather said he decided to kill Jensen only when Jensen "came at him" and that he had not told Caril of any intention to shoot the youth.

"Did Caril Fugate take any part whatsoever in the killing of Robert Jensen?" McArthur asked.

'No Part'

Scheele objected claiming that this was for the jury to decide, but Judge Harry A. Spencer overruled the objection and Starkweather replied "No."

Starkweather also said he shot Marion Bartlett when he "came at me with a hammer." Asked why he killed Mrs. Bartlett he replied "I shot Mrs. Bartlett but I didn't finish killing her."

He did not elaborate.

Starkweather said in reply to a question by McArthur concerning why he killed young Betty Jean Bartlett that "I didn't kill Betty Jean—I said I threw a knife at her but I didn't say I killed her." He said he threw the knife at her because she was screaming following the shootings of her parents.

'Hadn't Planned Killing'

Starkweather also said while he was holding a gun on service station attendant Robert Colvert of Lincoln Dec. 1 Colvert "jerked on the barrel" and that was "when the gun went off." He said he hadn't planned to kill Colvert, whom he had earlier robbed.

In every instance, McArthur asked Starkweather, you would not have shot them unless they had made some movement toward you? "Yes," was Starkweather's reply, but he added "they (his victims) were still in the right."

But, McArthur continued, if they had left you alone they wouldn't have gotten hurt? Starkweather replied that was true.

Asked how he felt after killing Colvert and Jensen, Starkweather replied "not very good."

'Not Sorry'

But he said firmly "I don't feel sorry" for killing Marion Bartlett, whom he said earlier had literally kicked him out of the Bartlett home before he returned and shot him.

Referring to the apparent discrepancies in the various statements Starkweather gave authorities, McArthur asked him if he had not lied in them.

Starkweather replied that he had, but added "I ain't much of a liar."

"How do you feel when you lie?" McArthur asked.

"What are you trying to get at?" Starkweather testily answered. He added he didn't know what his "emotions" were when he lied.

Sharp Exchange

McArthur asked if he realized he might get someone into trouble by lying, and Starkweather snapped "Are you saying I'm lying when I say Caril (Fugate) killed somebody?"

McArthur told Starkweather he must have misunderstood his question.

Starkweather said he came in to testify against Caril because "I was asked to come" by Scheele.

"Were you afraid not to talk?" McArthur asked.

"No," Starkweather answered.

'Not Frightened'

McArthur asked Starkweather if Jensen and Miss King appeared frightened while they drove around in Jensen's car before heading for the school cellar, and he said no.

Starkweather said while in the Jensen car he at first wanted to go into Bennet and call the law and "tell them where we were."

"To give yourself up?" McArthur asked.

"Yes."

But Starkweather said he changed his mind because he believed Jensen "recognized" him while in the car. "I wasn't going to let them be heroes and take us in," he said.

McArthur asked Starkweather if he ever talked with California investigator Harold Robinson, who was called in to study police handling of the Colvert case. He said no.

'Caril Knew'

Starkweather said Caril "knew" he killed Colvert but said he hadn't told her.

"I told her I was there but I didn't tell her I shot him... she figured out the rest by herself," he said, adding "she knew me like a book." He said he told Caril he "was there" when Colvert was killed the same day he had shot him—Dec. 1.

Starkweather was asked about the deaths of Lincolnite C. Lauer Ward and of Merle Collison of Great Falls, Mont., but refused to discuss them with McArthur.

McArthur asked Starkweather if he ever said he'd like to kill one of the psychiatrists who testified at his trial that he was "legally insane." Starkweather replied he had said he "wouldn't mind giving a bomb to (Dr. Nathan) Greenbaum," but had meant it as a joke.

State Residence Requirement For Notaries Public

Although a non-resident of Nebraska owns property and maintains a business in Nebraska, he may not be appointed notary public in the state, Attorney General Clarence Beck has ruled.

In an opinion requested by Secretary of State Frank Marsh, Beck said that even if the non-Nebraskan maintains his residence business office here, he may not be appointed a notary public in the Cornhusker state.

Ike Will Have To Depend On New Team Of GOP Leaders In Congress

Washington (UPI) — President Eisenhower will have to depend on a new set of congressional leaders—some of them relatively inexperienced—to guide the fight for the Republican party in the heavily Democratic 86th Congress.

GOP forces in Congress, reduced to their lowest numerical strength since New Deal days, were stripped of more than one-third of their leaders through deaths, retirements and election defeats.

The most notable among the missing will be Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland, who quit the Senate to make an unsuccessful race for governor of California. Senate GOP whip Everett M. Dirksen (Ill) was expected to succeed him.

Dirksen, a man of conservative bent who was once a follower of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), has been a consistent supporter of the President's programs. He 1st came to the Senate in 1951 after 16 years of service in the House.

On Hand

In the House, both GOP leader Joseph w. Martin Jr. (Mass) and whip Leslie C. Arends (Ill) will be on hand. But 10 of 19 standing House committees will have new ranking Republicans, many of whom have considerably less experience than their predecessors.

In the Senate, the top Republicans on 5 of 15 standing committees will not be present when Congress reconvenes in January. In both houses, the wholesale defeat of Republicans will reduce their numerical strength on committees.

Committee leadership is important because all legislation is framed in committees and most issues are settled there

Surveying the wreckage of their party, GOP leaders were convinced of the need for an agonizing reappraisal of their party's organization and campaign tactics.

They blamed the Democratic sweep on the recession, weak or divided party organization, and the political power or organized labor. Some talked of the need for more personable, colorful and aggressive candidates.

The Democratic victory will produce a sharp increase in Democratic voting margins on congressional committees. In the 85th Congress, the Democrats controlled Senate committees by a one-vote margin and House committees by a 4-vote spread.

In the next Congress, the Democratic margin will be at least 3 votes on Senate committees and 8 to 10 votes on House committees. On some of these committees, the entire top echelon of Republicans has been wiped out.

Legislature Decides Any Election Contest

... Contestant Must Win Or Pay Cost

If the election of any of Nebraska's executive officers or members of the Legislature should be contested, it would be up to the Legislature to judge the contest, under Nebraska statutes.

A simple recount of ballots is provided only in primary elections, but a general election must be contested on specific grounds.

Any elector may contest the validity of an election by filing notice of the contest, including the points on which the election is contested, within 20 days after the election.

The contestant must also, within 3 days after giving the notice, file a bond in the office of the Secretary of State, with security to be approved by that officer, to pay all costs in case the contest fails.

The statutes provide 8 points on which a general election may be challenged such as: misconduct, fraud or corruption on the part of any election judge or canvassing board sufficient to change the result; ineligibility of the incumbent; bribery of an election official or an elector by an incumbent to procure his election; when illegal votes have been received or legal votes rejected at the polls sufficient to change the results; for any error in any board of canvassers in counting the votes, or in declaring the result of the election if the error would change the result, or for any other cause which shows that another person was legally elected.

The statutes provide that both parties to a contest may name persons authorized by law to administer oaths to take depositions. If either party determines it is necessary, the ballots or poll books involved would be delivered to the Secretary of State.

Testimony must be finished by Dec. 29, and all records delivered to the Secretary of State for transmission to the Legislature for a decision on the contest.

Brooks Rests, Thanks Voters

McCook, Neb. (AP)—Confident that mail votes yet to be counted will not shift a 2,900-vote lead, Ralph G. Brooks rested at his home in McCook Thursday.

The Democratic gubernatorial candidate whose foot is three-fourths of his way inside the governor's mansion, expressed heartfelt thanks to the voters of Nebraska who indicated at the polls Tuesday they are ready for a change.

Brooks said he agrees with Secretary of State Frank Marsh on his estimate of approximately 7,000 mail votes but noticed that some 2,000 of them are in Douglas and Lancaster Counties where he gained a decisive majority.

"There is nothing anyone can do but wait and that's what we'll have to do," said Brooks.

Amid telegrams, flowers and telephone calls, the McCook school superintendent devoted most of the day to school business and said that running the school system still is his No. 1 job and will continue to be until the election is final.

"If and when I am elected, then it will be time to look for a new administrator—not until then," he said.

Professional Interpretations

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

With a few rare exceptions, the Republican professional politicians have an interesting way of looking at the election. Nationally, the President says nothing will change so far as he is concerned. If the people want something done which he isn't doing, he was quoted as saying, he doesn't know what it is.

The classic statement in Nebraska came from Republican State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr. of Grand Island who said: "The voters of Nebraska will appraise very carefully the performance of those Democrats elected to office to see whether or not they display a tendency toward the liberal trend of the national Democratic party. I cannot believe Nebraska as a whole is desirous of pulling left of the conservative viewpoint it has always maintained." Mr. Spelts is obviously a hard man to convince.

Not Easy To Convince

Efforts to label the Democratic party as liberal or any other radical name were rather soundly kicked around by the voters Tuesday. Mr. Spelts lost votes for his party with his insistence that it represented the conservative point of view.

For the Democrats, it would be a fine thing if Mr. Spelts continued the same kind of talk he used during the past campaign but it will do nothing for the Republican party. The trouble with what Spelts calls conservatism is that too many people think it means slipping backwards.

Instead of more of Mr. Spelts' conservatism, it would seem the people of Nebraska have said they are looking for a more progressive state government. At the same time, they want representation in Washington which makes the voice of this state heard.

Perhaps the people of Nebraska are a little tired of being behind so many other states in population growth, in industrial expansion, in public institutions, in public works, in education and in general governmental activity and influence. Perhaps they are concerned with the growth of bigness among industry and agriculture and with the conservation of the nation's resources for the people of the nation rather than a privileged few.

We fail to see, unlike Mr. Spelts, how it can be said that Nebraskans are not disposed to go along with the rest of the nation in social and economic progress and in assuming a new position of world leadership and influence. It seems that Mr. Spelts has completely missed the significance of the election.

He is still prone to believe that the people of this state are introverts and conservatives. The history of the state does not show this in any respect. It is not shown in the fact that the state has been dominantly Republican in the past.

What the lack of Democratic strength has shown in the past is that the party had too few good candidates. This is the first time, for instance, that Gov. Anderson has had to run against a man considered to have any chance at all. From the Democrats, he has really had no hard competition at the polls. Before this year, anyone who might have wanted to vote against the governor could hardly do so in view of the choice that faced him.

Just A Matter Of Quality

One thing can be said for sure, if the sentiments expressed by Spelts, by the President, by "undaunted" Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and others in the GOP prevail for the next two years—1960 will be the image of 1958 at the polls. Republicans do not have to become Democrats to win but they are going to have to come out of their shells.

Essential To Rebuilding

President Eisenhower reacted according to the code when his first response to the Democratic landslide was a chins-up speech. There are only two ways to go after such a calamitous experience. One is to call the coroner. The other is to demonstrate that life and the will to live is still present.

But while the President was doing the latter, the vice president, with his blessing, started work to rebuild the GOP. That, in itself, as much as the voting totals, was evidence that the Eisenhower administration does not intend to go forward with a business-as-usual frame of mind. The President's chins up speech, therefore, will not live in history but what ensues, may.

The American electorate, in punishing the Republicans, by no means cast its vote in behalf of a one party system. Rather it admonished that the two party principle was being negated by the out-of-focus behaviour of the Republicans. The administration properly construed the public mandate when it immediately began a rebuilding job.

It is indicated that Vice President Nixon will rally a more youthful leadership, pay less attention to the reactionary elder statesmen. This is practical because the elder statesmen will not be around. They were the principal victims of the voting.

But youth alone will not rebuild the Republican party. That can be achieved, rather, by a revision of views. If Mr. Nixon attempts to sell the same old product by the device of giving it new packaging, he will not succeed and his reorganization efforts will do the two party principle additional harm.

Back To Real Issues

The congressional consequences of the Democratic landslide together with the developments to come in the rebuilding of the Republican party offer subjects of deep interest and will be closely followed henceforth from day to day.

But Tuesday's voting provided another result of collateral interest the effect of which is altogether wholesome. It put an end for an indefinite time to the alluring but highly questionable use of class division as a means of winning votes. Such devices were rejected by the electorate.

The right-to-work measures which were injected into six states backfired badly. The proposal prevailed only in Kansas where labor is an inconsequential force and where for any predictable time such a law is about as useful as one prohibiting elephant hunting out of season. In states where the law could have had some meaning it was not only defeated, but its defeat sent candidates into limbo who otherwise might have won or retained their offices.

Similarly the civil rights action failed to switch northern city voting as some had hoped and it flunked as a political device. Also it failed to split the Democratic party. Since it is now stripped of its political uses and is a movement of inevitable virtue it remains for the forthcoming congress to dish it up in a form the South can find palatable.

It was likewise poor strategy to block the passage of the Kennedy-Ives bill in the House in order to salt the raw wound of labor racketeering for election purposes. It failed to win any elections and served only to give the racketeers a stay of sentence which now will certainly be passed upon them during the coming congress.

The electorate wishes its issues straight and said so convincingly last Tuesday.

Aid To Schools

The response of Nebraska school boards to the question of federal aid to education has been just a little more than 50 per cent favorable. This still leaves the question of acceptance of these funds up to the State Board of Education which will make its decision on the matter Dec. 2.

This is an important issue for Nebraska and not one to be dismissed with the general application of some false term or principle. Not a single person has been able to show how this aid would bring federal control of our schools. Some of the school boards made this assertion but they produced no evidence to back it up.

Some of the boards felt they did not need the aid as it would apply, in their cases, to programs which were already a part of the school system. But there is nothing in the law that says the aid must be accepted whether it is needed or not. Nor is the fact that it may not be needed in some cases any reason that it should be denied where it is needed.

Nebraska's educational system could find itself falling rapidly behind the rest of the nation if it simply picks up a part of the tab for school costs in other states but takes none of the tax money this tab represents. The state board should forget about the principle of federal aid as opposed to non-federal aid. It should look at the fact that federal aid is here to stay, we are going to be paying our share of it and we have a need for whatever part of it we are entitled to receive.

It won't be any principle of government that is going to fall or rise with the board's decision. What will be determined is the future educational opportunity of the children of Nebraska.

Bingo And Corn

The moral questions of bingo will become more clearly delineated, and perhaps even answered, by time and experience in the re-introduction of the game. But as an agricultural windfall it has more merit than anything Agriculture Secretary Benson has been able to think up the past six years. It will provide a new market for a large amount of surplus shelled corn, most of which will be stepped on or lost during the stirring play of the game.

If there is a cynic around who will sneer at the magnitude of the cash bingo corn market, we hasten to remind that we didn't say it would cure the surplus problem. We only said it was better than anything Benson has come up with.

Old Truism Gone

The hula hoop craze is getting to be world wide and in the United States where it was started more than $20 million worth of the things have been sold. What this means to the future is anyone's guess, but it has demolished one of the verities of the past. The fellow who said it never pays to think in circles was crazy. For profit ask the fellows who made and sold the hoops.

"You Fellows Serious This Time?"

DREW PEARSON

No Place For Warren Picture

WASHINGTON — It isn't being advertised in California but Chief Justice Earl Warren, long-time governor of that state and now the chief legal magistrate of the nation, has had his portrait barred from the new superior court building in Los Angeles.

The new building, a beautiful edifice, was dedicated last week, and Chief Justice Warren was present to make the chief dedication speech. As governor he had initiated plans for the building and it is considered a monument to him.

For that reason the supervisors of Los Angeles county, by a three-to-two vote, decided to place his portrait in the building. However, they were overruled by Asa Call, president of the Citizens Court House Committee, on the grounds that Warren is a "controversial figure."

Just how one man can overrule the board of supervisors is hard to explain, but a lot of things are hard to explain in southern California. One explanation is that Call is President of the University of Southern California Alumni Association, one of the most powerful political forces in southern California. One-third of the state's judges comes from this group.

At any rate, the chief justice's portrait, at this point, is still banned. However, elder California statesman John Anson Ford, senior Los Angeles supervisor, told this writer: "I shall take the matter up again at the first meeting of supervisors. It is only right that Earl Warren's portrait should hang in the superior court building."

GOP Now Looks To Rockefeller

WASHINGTON — The voters elected a contemporary congress and contemporary governors Tuesday.

In almost every instance the victors are younger, better-educated and more alert than the men they will replace. The future that they will shape may not be much of a future in the eyes of many of the losers, but it is all the future the present generation is going to have.

Because the Democrats practice politics more consistently and more sensitively than Republicans they were able to ride this trend to their sensational victories.

It is highly significant that the outstanding Republican survivor of Tuesday's avalanche, Gov.-Elect Nelson Rockefeller of New York, insisted upon stressing contemporary problems, openly rebuffed the scare tactics of President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon and repeatedly shied away from the Republican label.

Rockefeller sensed that GOP strategy would not win New York. Apparently it failed everywhere else.

Only one small, underpopulated state elected an outspoken right-wing Republican. Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona fought his campaign largely against his personal devil, Labor Leader Walter Reuther, and defeated a Democratic conservative, Gov. Ernest McFarland.

New York almost alone gives the Republican party a true center of power today and a claim to be a viable institution, able to expand and grow.

Thus Rockefeller emerges as more than a potential rival of Vice-President Nixon for the Republican nomination for president in 1960. He can be the rebuilder of his party — the task for which the President once seemed ideally equipped but for which he has shown neither inclination nor talent.

With their present numbers and strength the Democrats offer no such golden opportunity to any one man. In their efforts to capture the 1960 prize, Democratic front-runners will be jostling each other, compelled to compete harshly within the family.

Rockefeller has vote appeal, energy, ambition, lashings of money and ties with many walks of American life. Albany will test his political skill, but he will have the best help money can buy and he has shown—in a nice way but unmistakable—that he can be ruthless.

It will be endlessly fascinating to watch the vice-president cope with the first real challenge he has encountered within the Republican party. He will be handicapped by the fact that his home base in California has been swept away.

There the Democrats triumphed, as forecast. It is further evidence that the party's center of gravity is shifting westward and that it has greatly expanded its old South-big city machine base.

The continuing rise of the West contributes to the South's state of siege within its party. Despite their seniority and parliamentary skill, the Southerners in Congress will find it increasingly difficult to hold the fort on civil rights, though the din will be terrific.

The first tendency of politicians was to stress the local issues, which affected the outcome. Unquestionably, they are very important in midterm elections.

But the Democratic victors in nearly every case also discussed and criticized the foreign policy of the administration. From Maine to California, and including Wyoming, they demanded new solutions in world affairs.

The opportunity is thus afforded the Eisenhower administration to be more imaginative and flexible than it has been in the past.

The feeling that something ought to be tried which has not been tried was clearly expressed in the campaign by Democrats, and they have won. This is an area, too, on which they have as a party very great unity.

The election furnished few personal surprises. Aspiring Democratic Senators John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri got their big pluralities. Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey is helped by the victory of his choice for Senator Harrison Williams, one of the youngest and freshest of the new voices.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Women Lending Harvest Hand

By MONA B. PARKER

Probably among the more surprised in South Sioux City's sticky-fingered element is the individual who purloined two packages from a parked car just prior to election. The car belonged to a candidate and the packages contained 500 campaign cards and 100 posters, each complete with picture. The hopeful candidate was quoted as saying that he wouldn't mind a bit if the thief distributed the contents.

It was bound to happen. It happens every year, along with the biggest tomato or the first robin or the tallest corn . . .

Few are immune to the hunting craze out in the Lyons area, reports the Mirror-Sun, and when two local truckers saw a flock of geese north of town, they dropped everything resembling work, rushed to town, purchased licenses and stamps, borrowed shotguns, bought shells and rushed back, and laboriously sneaked up on the still present flock.

They were still drooling over the prospect of Canadian whites on the dinner table when they realized that their prey was very realistic looking decoys . . .

A Curtis housewife came around at the proper time to get her hunting license. She requested a reduced rate on the price, hoping to trade in her "almost new" fishing license that had been used only once.

The market on used fishing licenses had just hit rock bottom, the Enterprise chuckled, what with new models already in the factory, and all.

And there still remain a few city folks who wonder why the farming man does not welcome the hunter with open arms and field. Reports have come in of those who tear down the "No Trespassing" signs and proceed at their pleasure, uninvited.

Near Howells, a carful of Omaha hunters did their part toward the deterioration of friendly relations when they threatened to set their dogs on two local hunters if they didn't leave the field in which they were hunting.

There are scanty meals on the table these days, and dishes in the sink, and the Bertrand Herald knows the reason and approves . . .

More women are working in the fields this harvest than in many years. The weather is good, milo and corn are ready, and everyone is in the field. As a result, crops are getting out in record time and the rural man and his family are well pleased with the yields.

☆ ☆ ☆

There is one very certain and permanent assurance against unemployment, according to the Cambridge Clarion. If you're a girl, that is. All you have to do is marry a farmer . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

John Carter of the Clarks News listened to one of Vice President Nixon's television presentations, in which he wound up a laudatory oration on fellow party members among Nebraska state officials with the inference that the bumper crop in our state this year was all due to the Republicans.

To which Editor Carter lifted his brows a bit and replied:

"God, nature and the hard labor of Nebraska farmers had nothing to do with it."

☆ ☆ ☆

Calf-weaning time, and 100 of the hungry youngsters are penned close to the Archer farm home of Columnist Fred A. Marsh. Judging by the noise, the pangs of hunger must be severe, he writes, but in a week or so the new diet of alfalfa, silage, and grain will pacify them as they move on to maturity.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Old Guard Fades Away

WASHINGTON—"You will admit, of course, that your country is run by the Rockefellers, the Mellons and the Fords."

The speaker was a Soviet citizen encountered in Kiev on a visit to Russia last summer. So indoctrinated was he with the official propaganda line that it was little use arguing with him that, politically speaking, nothing could be further from the truth. In the naive propaganda out of Moscow Nelson Rockefeller's victory in the race for governor of New York is being hailed as another piece of evidence in the rule of big money in America.

Certainly Rockefeller's wealth, his name and his family's influence helped. But unlike other men of great riches who have tried to play a part in American political life, whether directly or indirectly, he made a broad appeal to moderates and liberals. It was the appeal of a friendly, likeable human being who was assuming in his campaign that under the rules of fair play the golden spoon he was born to would not be held against him.

At the same time Rockefeller was demonstrating that a rich man could do it the hard way by getting into the thick of the political fray. Others in his income bracket were following the old course of trying to buy their way home. Many were contributing, as Vice-President Nixon plaintively pointed out at the start of the campaign, to the hated peddlers only too eager to promise that the good old days of William McKinley would be restored.

On the other side of the continent another hard-campaigning young Republican, who had also shucked off the old guard, was winning a less conspicuous victory. Mark Hatfield, secretary of state of Oregon, defeated an old-line Republican candidate in the primary and went on to do his own intense, friendly, handshaking campaign.

He remarked wryly 10 days before the election that the Old Guard still believed you could buy elections by putting up enough billboards and getting enough television time. In a once-Republican state in which the Democrats had captured virtually every office this former professor of political science used a new approach and new techniques. Determined to remake the Republican organization in Oregon, Hatfield at 36 will bear watching. If the Republican party has a future it lies in realists such as Oregon's newly elected young governor.

An exception to the liberal-moderate tack is Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who won re-election on an all-out down-with-Reuther campaign. But in Arizona the roles of the two parties were the reverse of what they were almost everywhere else.

Goldwater set out to create the image of the ardent crusader, even though his words were those of reaction. Fifteen years younger than his 64-year-old Democratic challenger, Governor Ernest McFarland, he gave the impression of intense sincerity as he flew from one corner of the state to the other in his own plane. In contrast, the amiable McFarland seemed to represent nothing more than a tired past and a continuing yen for high office.

In the new Senate Goldwater will be a lonely figure. The extreme right had already lost Senators Joseph McCarthy and Herman Welker. In announcing his retirement Senator William Jenner of Indiana had a forecast of the handwriting on the wall, and he failed by a wide margin to put over his hand-picked successor, Governor Harold Handley. In the Democratic sweep the right wing lost Senator John W. Bricker in Ohio and Senator George Malone in Nevada, and Senator William F. Knowland, on whom they could usually count, went down to a foreordained doom in California. In Wyoming the right lost Senator Frank A. Barrett, who almost always voted on the conservative side.

Presumably the leader of the greatly shrunken Republican flock in the new Senate will be Senator Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois. His will be far from an easy task during the last two years of a President who cannot succeed himself and who has been, in effect, repudiated by the voters.

But if Dirksen is bound to have troubles with his sad minority, so will the majority leader, Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, with his greatly swollen majority. Johnson, who believes in a place for everyone and everyone in his place, is going to have to cope with eager beavers taking new confidence from the liberal-labor sweep.

Altogether it promises to be an extremely interesting two years. And if a Rockefeller should emerge as the Republican candidate for President no one should be in the least surprised.

Aftermath

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star:

With their new party leader, the "Whittier Wizard,"
Reportedly lost in the balloting blizzard;
With the GOP bosses still counting their losses,
And the down-hearted also-rans bearing their crosses,
Since the blizzard dispelled their political smog,
They'll have to quit living so high on the hog.

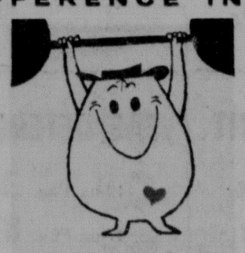
It comes in a box like ordinary cereal, and that's where the resemblance between Life and ordinary cereal ends. For no cereal gives you more protein. And Life gives you special protein—useful protein—the same quality of protein as in meat and milk. Life gives you, too, 100% of your daily need of 3 essential vitamins, plus 6 more important vitamins and minerals. Delicious bite-sized pieces of shredded oats . . . have some tomorrow!

WHAT A DIFFERENCE IN PROTEIN . . .

Some proteins are "lazy." They just can't build up your body because they don't have the right amount of certain essential protein elements.



Some proteins are "hard working." They build, repair and maintain body tissues. But "working" proteins aren't stored in the body. That's why you need them every day.

Senate Demos Urge Anti-Trust Probe Of GM

Monopoly Inquiry Is Requested

Washington (UPI) — Democratic members of the Senate Anti-Monopoly subcommittee urged the Justice Department Thursday to launch an anti-trust investigation to determine whether Federal Courts should be asked to break up General Motors Corp.

The Democratic majority said in a 183-page report that the Justice Department should conduct "a thorough examination of monopoly aspects of the automobile industry."

The report said the subcommittee's own hearings leave "little doubt that the hard core of the monopoly problem in the automobile industry is in the concentration of production and power held by GM."

Sharp Dissent

The Democratic report drew a sharply-worded dissent from Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill), a GOP subcommittee member and prospective Senate Republican leader in the new 86th Congress.

Dirksen attacked what he called the "unwarranted effrontery" and "sly insinuations" of the Democrats in a 101-page statement of "individual views."

He said the majority report clearly was written by the subcommittee staff and largely reflected the views of subcommittee economist John M. Blair.

Signers Of Report

The majority report was signed by subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Sens. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., (D-Mo), Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and John A. Carroll (D-Colo.)

In asserting that information in its own hearings and elsewhere might open the way to a new overall attack on monopoly, the subcommittee said its comment was "particularly applicable to GM and may apply also to Ford and Chrysler."

The report said "the level of automobile prices has come to be largely determined by the pricing methods and policies of General Motors."

FRENCH MEDAL, KISS FOR WEEPY CHURCHILL

. . . De Gaulle Bestows Liberation Cross

Paris (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill, with tears welling in his eyes, received a symbol of gratitude from Gen. Charles de Gaulle Thursday for helping deliver France from Nazi occupation.

Sir Winston was given the Cross of Liberation and a kiss on each cheek by de Gaulle.

The medal, worn by only 15 other foreigners, is the highest honor for those who worked to free France.

Thursday's ceremony was the first occasion in 14 years bringing the 2 wartime leaders together. All signs of old friction between the 2 were dissipated in the flow of Curchillian prose, French champagne and affectionate attentions from de Gaulle.

Churchill, 84 the end of this month, walked haltingly about the sprawling gardens and salons of de Gaulle's Matignon mansion. He appeared a little haggard but his familiar smile frequently lit his face as he chatted with de Gaulle in English and French.

'Storybook' Folk Populate Beautiful, Dreamlike Switzerland

By Ada McVicker

(Here is another article written for the Nebraska Press Assn. by Mrs. McVicker, who with her husband, William McVicker, wire editor of The Lincoln Star, recently toured Europe. Mrs. McVicker here describes sights and scenes in Switzerland.)

There is an unreal dreamlike quality in Switzerland, particularly when one arrives fresh from the huge panorama of the World's Fair. We were also still vividly remembering the rich treasures of Paris' wonderful Louvre, the elaborate and lavish scenes at the palaces and gardens of Versailles and the brassy, eye-filling show at the enormous Lido night club.

We left Paris on the smooth-riding electric train and settled down for a relaxing ride through rural France to Switzerland. Peaceful farms and small villages were a welcome sight to folks with our agricultural background.

Our first real view of the mountains came as we went through Lasaunne. Then on we glided to our destination —Montreux, surrounded by mountains and overlooking Lake Geneva. This body of clear blue water is 50 miles long, about 4 wide and 300 feet deep in places. Our hotel overlooked the lake with an esplanade along the water and gardens in between full of blooming plants.

Up the road a bit was the castle of Chillon, part of it 800 years old, all of it fascinating. Many of its rooms were furnished. A collection of old pewter to marvel at and furniture, fireplaces, and arms and armor of long ago were viewed with due respect.

Then came a ride around the lake with a stop for luncheon at Geneva — center of wickedness in Calvin's time, now famed for its impressive United Nations Center and its world headquarters for the Red Cross.

We left Montreux regretfully but we need not have, for what lay ahead was even more rewarding. Our train glided through the spectacular Alps, climbing higher and higher. The houses looked more and more like the cookie variety we make for Christmas centerpieces. It seemed the door would pop open and a gingerbread boy race down the path at any moment.

Our arrival and departure were announced at each stop by the deep-toned chime on the engine. No clangs on this road. But the whistle made a funny little "tweet" like the ones that used to come in little boys' sailor suit pockets.

Around the stations were storybook people — the women and little girls all wearing aprons over their plain dresses and heavy shoes and stockings. The children looked like Hummel figures — just as rosy and round and complacent.

Realistic Touch

One touch of realism was the electric control panel visible in each station, its lights and gadgets and signals determining what happened on the rails. These trains ran on time. No nonsense about late trains. The ties were metal not wood, the resulting road-bed mighty smooth. Travel posters decorated the stations outside, all neatly framed.

Geraniums spilled out of every other windowsill in gay reds and pinks. We saw more and more houses with mottoes painted across the front as we went deeper inland. The cows at the little farms were all "blondes" and many wore beautiful brass bells the size to call children in for school at home. The tones were soft and melodious. Occasionally we saw a bullock cart, and now and then a horse and plow. A sleigh was ready for winter at one house.

The watchword in Switzerland is "order." Instead of saying "okay" or "that's fine," they say "that will be quite in order." If there is a weed in the whole country we haven't seen it. The grass on lawns and pastures is evidently trained to grow only a certain height for there is an even, deep green carpet over everything, studded with stretches of beautiful forests with majestic peaks above. Power poles stride up many hills. The waterfalls and rushing streams take care of that.

View of Jungfrau

We had a view of the Jungfrau, towering over Interlaken, completely veiled in sparkling snow. We took a cable car and aerial cable lift trip over a mile up from Lucerne and looked shakily down upon the valley below where a toy village lay and dizzily up to peaks covered with snow and ice. These aerial cable cars are the only way many villagers can get home. Going up we wished we'd led a better life. Coming down we turned over new leaves so fast you could surely hear a swishing sound.

Metropolitan Opera Ousts $18,000 Pact With Temperamental Maria Callas

New York (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera Thursday canceled its $18,000 season contract with Maria Callas, the tempermental terror of the opera world.

Callas

The Met said it was glad to get rid of her.

General manager Rudolf Bing said the soprano told him she is going to give up singing. He suggested that what he called her "whims" are aimed at that end.

Bing accused Miss Callas of a display of her famed temperament in attempting to force through a last minute change of the repertoire agreed to for the current season. He said she'd done the same thing before all over the world and that the Met has had enough of it.

Praising Miss Callas' artistry, Bing added that "the Metropolitan is nevertheless also grateful that the association is ended."

The Met boss suggested the day may come when Miss Callas will give her "eyeteeth to be back with the Metropolitan."

The tempestuous star has often been in hot water with her employers. In 1957, both the Vienna Opera and the San Francisco Opera dropped her. Last January, Miss Callas walked out after the 1st act of an opera in Rome and later issued a public apology to Italian President Gronchi.

Miss Callas also has been waging a cold war with the citadel of opera, La Scala in Milan. She said last season that she was not returning there.

The Met named Viennese-born Leonie Rysanek to take over Miss Callas' place on its roster for the season. Miss Rysanek currently is in Chicago singing at the Lyric Theater.

In Dallas, where she was to sing the title role of Cherubini's "Media," Miss Callas made no immediate reply to Bing.

"It's not nice—not today," a friend quoted her as saying on reading the telegram from Bing.

University Survey To Study Recreational Value Of 3 Lakes

Some 4,000 University of Nebraska questionnaires will be mailed soon to residents of 13 counties in southwestern Nebraska and northwestern Kansas to gather information about leisure and recreational likes.

The University hopes, by means of this survey to determine what part Enders, Swanson and Strunk Lakes have played in serving recreational needs of persons in those areas.

From the poll, Dr. Richard Videbeck, assistant professor of sociology, said, the University will be able to answer questions such as, the use of the lakes, what improvements are needed, and value of the lakes for recreation.

$12,000 Grant

The survey is being financed by a $12,000 grant from the National Park Service and National Bureau of Reclamation to the University's Council for Community Study.

The project is being directed jointly by Dr. Videbeck and Dr. Edgar Palmer, chairman of the department of business research.

Dr. Videbeck said that in addition to the mailed questionnaires, he and a crew of graduate students will visit the area next week to personally interview 100 to 125 individuals.

The counties which will be surveyed include:

Nebraska — Dundy; Frontier; Furnas; Hayes; Hitchcock; Chase; and Red Willow.

Kansas—Cheyenne; Decatur; Logan; Norton; Rawlins; and Thomas.

Tests Show Gas Caused Death Fire

Fire Chief Paul Feaster said Thursday that laboratory analysis indicates that gasoline and not cleaning solvent was the fluid which ignited and fatally burned service station attendant Constantine D. Panagiotis, 21, of 2525 S.

Panagiotis was cleaning the station's service area at the time of the accident. His survivors include a wife and son.

Conservation Reserve Offers Exceed Budget

Some 6,515 Nebraska farmers have filed under the Conservation Reserve Program requesting a total of $14,591,314 or slightly more than $5 million dollars over the amount available, the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office reported.

The number included a total of 4,539 farmers who filed their entire acreage under the Soil Bank Program.

Glenn Umberger, program specialist with the ASC, said the applications were filed at the ASC in 3 groups. They were:

1. Farmers who enrolled part of their land in 1958 in the Conservation Reserve Program with the balance in the Acreage Reserve Program and who are now offering their entire land in the Conservation Reserve Program.

2. Farmers who offered to receive a figure less than the maximum pay rate established by the local ASC County Committee.

3. Farmers who filed to receive the maximum pay rate established by the local ASC County Committee.

Notification of acceptance will be mailed Friday by the ASC to all farmers who filed earlier with the ASC, Umberger reported.

After the notification is returned to the County Committee contracts will be accepted on a priority basis with applicants in group 1 receiving top priority and groups 2 and 3 following in that order.

Groups 1, 2 Near Full

Applications filed in groups 1 and 2 will total $9,497,948 of the $9.5 million allocated to the Nebraska Conservation Program if none of the farmers decide to drop from the program, Umberger said.

Maximum rates per acre range from $9.50 to $18.50 over the state with an average of $12.50.

Farms may rate better than this if the productivity rate is higher or worse if the rate is lower. Most of the land will be entered on 5 or 10 year programs with a few entered for 3 years.

The total number of acres (729,766.7) filed by the applicants was over the goal of 506,000 set for the Nebraska program this year.

Burdette Johnsen Again Files Suit -1st Dismissed

Burdette S. Johnsen of 3531 C, whose $55,981.32 suit for injuries against Dr. Harry A. Taylor of 4642 Madison was dismissed by District Judge Harry Ankeny, filed for a new trial in Lancaster District Court.

In asking for a new trial, Johnsen's filing claims that "the court erred in sustaining the defendent's motion for a directed verdict or the alternative to dismiss the plaintiff's case made at the conclusion of all evidence."

The suit arose from an April, 1956 auto accident in downtown Lincoln which Johnsen claimed aggravated a back injury which was then healing from major surgery.

Included in the claims for damages was one for an $11,000 loss of business caused by Johnsen's absence from his place of business, Johnsen's Cafe at 9th and P.

Dear friends:

Today we have such special news that General Mills has asked me to write it to you in a letter. A lot of you will remember the day ten years or so ago that a brand new cake was born. Responsibility Said Standard For Maturity

. . . Jones NWU Speaker

The recognition, acceptance and discharge of responsibility is the measure and standards of womanhood and manhood in all society, a Wesleyan University audience was told Thursday by a Nebraska business, civil and church leader.

Merle G. Jones of Beatrice, president of Store-Kraft Manufacturing Co., and one of the nation's leading Presbyterian laymen spoke at a luncheon of Lincoln business and professional men and Wesleyan faculty members, concluding a 3rd annual Student-Business Convocation on the campus.

Using "Responsibility and Freedom" as his subject, Jones added that "one of the most important tasks of American education is to train our future teachers, fathers and mothers, citizens and government officials to recognize the several responsibilities that will confront them in their varied places, to accept those responsibilities and to discharge them effectively."

Freedom Heads List

Referring to freedom as "our greatest responsibility," Jones pointed out that the student citizen who shoulders his responsibilities most promptly and cheerfully has the greatest freedom.

"Academic freedom is simply the application of this principle of responsibility and freedom in the area of the teaching profession," he said.

Earlier in the morning Dr. Maurice Frazer, Paul Henson, Dale Renner and Elmer Magee represented 4 facets of Lincoln business and professional life in discussing career opportunities before the Wesleyan student body.

Werner Leinert and Chamber of Commerce President Harold Hoppe appeared on the convocation platform along with Wesleyan President Vance D. Rogers.

Churchill Honored

Johannesburg (AP) — The Afrikaans Literary Society is honoring a former prisoner of the Boers for greatness in cultural achievement. "We must be broad-minded enough to admire greatness even in our adversaries," South African writer S. S. Mocke said in announcing the award to Sir Winston Churchill, who was captured — and escaped —in the Boer War 60 years ago.

Several months ago, when we started giving out free stamps, we all agreed that this was a wonderful way to pass on additional savings to you—the customer. We were able to absorb the cost of stamps without raising our everyday prices.

However, due to rising costs in all phases of our business we have reached the point where we can no longer offer free stamps unless we raise our prices. Therefore we have decided to discontinue stamps and give cash savings to you through lower food prices everyday.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

Home from Mexico. You can drink the water right out of the faucet. And hamburgers grow in Hamburger Heaven. From the City of Angels: "Welcome, stranger."

"As a matter of gloomy record," said Mr. Brig Townsend, the hotel press attache, "the stranger is no longer welcome. Southern hospitality is no more—Southern California, that is."

"Is this fact or fancy, Brig?"

"It is a fancy fact," said Hollywood's sincerest press agent.

☆ ☆ ☆

Mr. Townsend said the Los Angeles city fathers were about to slap a 5 per cent room tax on each and every guest.

"An extra burden to those who, already burdened, seek a room at the inn. How would you like to pay 5 per cent more for your pad?" he said.

"I wouldn't like it. I would like to pay 5 per cent less."

"The hotels feel it is the height of inhospitality," said Brig. "Besides being very bad for business."

"Los Angeles built its reputation on the cordial welcome?"

"That was the old days," he said. "Soon we may slip around glass in your mint julep."

Los Angeles now claims 444 square miles. The pioneers chopped out most of this out of jackrabbit land and planted it with oranges.

Almost immediately the real estate men began chopping out the oranges and planting it with tourists.

The Eastern States were bannered with signs: "Come to California!" And they didn't mean San Francisco.

The railroads opened a rate war—$15 from the Mississippi to Los Angeles; $10 to California; $5 to Callifornia! On one day in 1886 the price dropped to $1 for the entire trip.

At present they figure 400 new people a day arrive in Southern California. And the census estimators predict Los Angeles will go to 10 million —the biggest city in the world. Heavenly days!

☆ ☆ ☆

Brig said hospitality and salubrious climate had founded the town. Right?

"It seems a little smoggy outside," I said.

"It is probably fog. It drifts down from San Francisco. Sometimes I think they BLOW it down this way. A jealous city will stop at nothing.

"Now," said Brig, "suppose you also add 5 per cent on the hotel bills. It would give Hollywood a bad reputation."

☆ ☆ ☆

Hollywood had an excellent reputation. The town was incorporated in 1903.

The Hotel Hollywood asked for a liquor license—"to accommodate our winter visitors."

Absolutely no, said the city council.

Naturally, the town has grown hospitable since then.

Mid-October Farm Index Down 7 Points

Drop Due To Livestock Products, Crops Mark Decline

Nebraska's all farm commodities price index of 269 for mid-October was down 7 points below a month earlier, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Thursday.

However, the mid-October index was 17 points above the index for October of last year. The livestock and livestock products index at 307 dipped 7 points from last month but is 32 points above the livestock index of a year ago.

The all crops index of 169 declined from last month and is 22 points down from a year ago.

Prices received by Nebraska farmers for calves jumped $3.03 from last month to reach $32 per cwt. for mid-October. An increase of $8.10 per cwt. was shown over last year's price. The mid-October average cattle price of $24.60 per cwt. advanced 50 cents over the September price and is up $4.40 per cwt. over the same period a year earlier.

Hogs were off $2 from last month to hit $18 per cwt. but remained $1.10 above the price a year ago. Sheep at $6.20 per cwt. declined 50 cents from the mid-September price and also show a 50 cent drop from the average price for October, 1957.

Arab And Israeli Shots Exchanged

. . . Firing Halted At U.N. Observers' Request

Cairo (AP)—A United Arab Republic military spokesman said Thursday U.A.R. 1st Army artillery damaged 2 Israeli settlements south of Luke Huleh in a clash begun by the Israelis.

He identified the settlements as Keoush and El Zobeid.

He said the clash began after an Israeli armored car penetrated Arab territory in the demilitarized zone on the east bank of the Jordan river.

The spokesman said the U. A. R. forces stopped firing after an hour at the request of U.N. observers. There were no U. A. R. casualties, he said.

Although the shooting incident broke the relative frontier calm at a time when the Cairo press is predicting an Israeli attack, the outbreak looked like an isolated frontier incident and not the beginning of an all-out war.

The spokesman said the Israeli armored car penetrated the Arab lands in the demilitarized zone in the early morning, but later retired.

In the early afternoon tanks appeared and shooting began, he said.

MARA ZEGELIS

Mara Zegelis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Zegelis of 332 So. 27th, wrote an article entitled, "Recipe for Arithmetic" which appears in the October issue of the national periodical, The Arithmetic Teacher.

An eighth grade pupil at Whittier Junior High School, Miss Zegelis, originally wrote the article in her seventh grade arithmetic class for The Junior High School Mathematics and Science Newsletter.

The article published follows:

1 cup intelligence
2 cups thinking
½ cup addition
½ cup subtraction
½ cup multiplication
½ cup division
dash of mistakes
¾ cup corrections
1 heaping cup effort
¾ cup decimals
¾ cup fractions
4 cups problems
4 cups answers
¼ cup graphs
¾ cup measures
1 cup per cents
1 heaping cup practice
1 tsp. digits

Sift the intelligence and thinking together. Add the addition, subtraction, multiplication and division; mix well. Fold in fractions, decimals, and per cents and insert mistakes sparingly. Mistakes may be left out without ruining the texture.

Use effort. Fold in slowly the measures and graphs. Add the digits. Work in the problems and effort until well mixed. Insert answers and corrections. Let simmer until meaning is clear. An extra portion of practice may add to the seasoning.

"Makes as many servings as needed. Guaranteed to give excellent results."

Highway accidents in October accounted for 18 deaths; county road accidents accounted for 16, and 6 were recorded on city streets.

Twenty-one October deaths occurred during daytime, and 19 at night.

Democrats Widen Control Of State Legislatures

With Prizes Will Be Headaches

Washington (AP)—The Democratic election tide that flooded Congress also swept Democrats into control of 13 state lawmaking bodies formerly Republican dominated.

The sea of ballots, however, washed ashore problems as well as prizes for the new Democratic state senators and representatives.

The trouble most widely reported was an old familiar headache: Money — how to raise state revenues with least pain to state voters.

At least 6 new legislatures have big state deficits to contend with. Others face demands for costly programs. Nearly all have some sort of budget worries.

Among other issues popping up in one or more state houses were reapportionment of legislatures—especially in places where Democrats complained of past gerrymanders at their expense; attempts to enact or repeal right-to-work laws; state prohibition repeal. In the South, some of the legislators were looking for ways to bolster the legal defenses of segregation.

A survey by the Associated Press in 35 states which held elections for legislatures concurrent with those for Congress showed that in 3 states —Ohio, California and Connecticut — Democrats seized control of both houses of the legislature from the GOP.

In 10—Idaho, Illinois, Indian, Massachusetts, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, Wisconsin and Wyoming—Democrats took over one house formerly Republican-held; in one, Michigan, they achieved a tie in a formerly Republican house. There were no shifts of control that favored the Republicans.

Everywhere outside the already 100% Democratic statehouses in the South, the Democrats scored gains, whether or not these gave them numerical control.

They kept 13 already Democratic legislatures, in Alabama, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, West Virginia.

The Republicans held on to control in four—Iowa, Kansas, New York and North Dakota.

One state—Nebraska—has a nonpartisan legislature.

Lancaster Co. Posts Record Off-Year Vote

The Lancaster County turnout of 41,184 voters was a new record for an off-year election.

With a possible 826 absentee and disabled voter count, the the final figure will round off near the pre-election prediction of 42,000 voters.

The previous off-year high was 37,262 voters in 1954. In the 1956 presidential election, 55,328 voters went to the polls.

54 School Boards Favor Federal Aid

Of 118 school boards replying to the State Board of Education's request for their sentiments on Nebraska's acceptance or rejection of federal school aid, 54 favored acceptance by Thursday.

State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker said 53 opposed acceptance and 11 were undecided.

Decker does not wish to reveal names of communities involved until the State Board meets Dec. 2 to decide whether or not Nebraska will accept federal monies.

Demos Will Crack Down On Dulles' Tactics

Washington (UPI) —Political experts predicted that Democratic foreign policy spokesmen, backed by fat congressional majorities, will crack down hard on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' diplomatic tactics.

These experts said there probably would be no change in basic foreign policy as a result of the election. Democrats have been among the strongest supporters of President Eisenhower's fundamental concepts.

The elimination of several conservative Republican senators actually relieved the President of some of his most troublesome opponents on such policies as foreign aid and reciprocal trade.

Greater Voice

But the Democrats will demand and are expected to get, a greater voice in the formulation of foreign policy during the last two years of the Eisenhower administration. They plan to insist that they be consulted fully by the administration before it undertakes any new approach to foreign affairs.

In addition, there is certain to be a growing Democratic demand for some restriction on the free-wheeling scope of Dulles. A number of influential Democrats have charged that Dulles has taken the United States close to the brink of war on several occasions—notably in Indochina in 1954, the Middle East last summer and Quemoy and Matsu this autumn.

Broad Program

Washington (UPI) —Democratic congressional leaders laid down a broad program of housing, farm, labor and economic legislation which they believed the voters had demanded in electing a heavily Democratic 86th Congress.

Speaker Sam Rayburn disputed President Eisenhower's "radical" label for the new Congress. He said it was the President himself who has turned out to be one of history's biggest spenders.

He promised the new Congress would steer a constructive course geared to the nation's best interests.

In a telephone interview from his home in Bonham, Tex., Rayburn said the Democratic sweep stacked up as a protest against the recession, high prices, and the Benson farm program. He said it also reflected general disappointment in the President's leadership.

Goals

Although no formal legislative goals have been set as yet for the new Congress Rayburn forecast passage of:

—A housing bill. Its details are still to be worked out. But it presumably will embody key slum clearance and college housing loan features of a Democratic measure which the House failed to pass this year.

—A new Kennedy-Ives labor reform bill, or something along its lines, to combat union corruption as exposed by Senate rackets investigators. Although such a bill was passed by the Senate in the 85th Congress the House turned it down.

—Farm legislation "to straighten out some of the kinks" in the Benson farm program. Rayburn said voter dissatisfaction with the present program apparently was a factor in election of a number of Democratic House members from farm state districts previously Republican.

NU Research Funds Pass $1 Million Mark

Alliance—The University of Nebraska went over the $1 million mark for research and training grants Thursday.

The Board of Regents, meeting here during its annual tour of outstate facilities, accepted $291,924 in outside grants. This brings the total to $1,084,934 for the first six months of the fiscal year, compared with $684,101 at this time last year.

In submitting the grants for approval, Dr. John C. Weaver, research administrator, predicted that the University would surpass the $2 million mark this fiscal year, which ends May 31, 1959. Last year, the University received an all-time high of $1.4 million.

The Board also approved the adding of 25 $100 scholarships to the present Regents' Freshman Scholarship program. These additional scholarships will be awarded to the top 25 winners of the statewide Regent examination regardless of school apportionment, Dr. Hardin said. Under the present program, 300 scholarships are awarded, one to the top senior in each of 300 Nebraska high schools.

In the past, Dr. Hardin said, it was possible for three or four students from one high school to rate higher in the examination than the winner from another high school. "With the additional scholarships the top 25 students, regardless of high school affiliation, will be offered a $100 scholarship," he added.

In other acton, the Board:

—Approved the appointment of Dr. R. Burt Maxcy of Chicago, Ill. as professor of dairy husbandry. He will replace Dr. L. K. Crowe, who will be on a two-year assignment in Turkey with the Nebraska Field Mission. Dr. Maxcy, who has been in prviate industry for the past six years, will do teaching and research.

—Approved the appointment of Homer V. Judge as administrative assistant with the University staff in Turkey. For the past four years, Judge has been community development advisor for the Near East Foundation in Iran.

—Accepted the resignation of Helen A. Rocke, effective Dec. 21, as associate extension home economist. She has been a member of the staff since 1925.

—Accepted the low bid—$51,780—of Ray Martin Company of Lincoln for improvement of the power plant, including a pipe line to the former Elgin building.

—Authorized Business Manager Carl Donaldson to sell Loomis Hall, 1411 North 37th, a former women's cooperative house which has not been used for the past year.

Gunned Man Gets $15 Fine For Trespass

Donald E. Schernikau, 23, of 405 So. 26th was fined $15 in Municipal Court after being found guilty of trespassing.

Schernikau was charged in connection with an Oct. 27 incident in which he was wounded while walking between houses in the 200 block on So. 26th the night of Oct. 27.

A tenant in one house said he fired his shotgun into some lilac bushes in an attempt to scare a prowler observed by his wife.

Schernikau appealed the court verdict and appeal bond was set at $100.

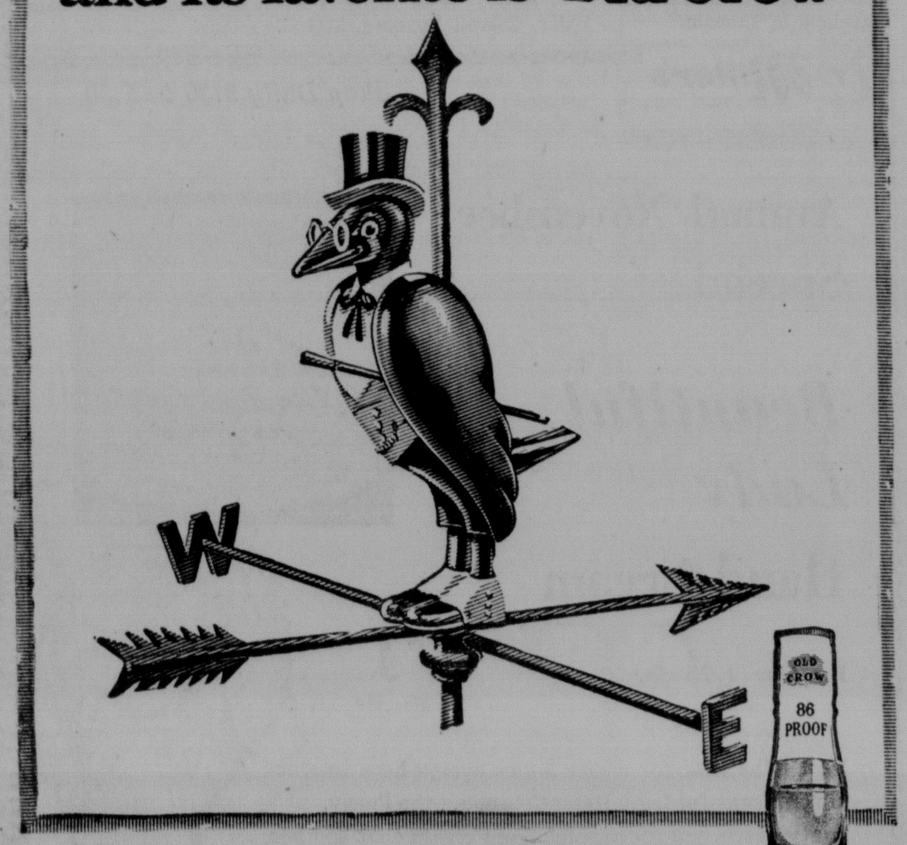
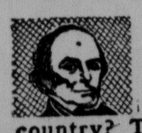
America knows its bourbon and its favorite is Old Crow


Light, mild 86 proof Old Crow by far outsells any bourbon in the land


Why does one bourbon outsell every other bourbon in the country? The answer is: Americans know their bourbon. They always have. A century ago, Daniel Webster flatly called Old Crow... "the finest in the world."
Webster, Henry Clay, Mark Twain—giants of history—all prized Old Crow. Today their number is multiplied by the millions. The lightness, mildness and incomparable flavor of 86 Proof Old Crow truly make it "the finest Kentucky whiskey ever put into glass!"

Dear Abby . . .

Things Tough All Over!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem in my office. Everyone but myself is either on a diet or is talking about food and weight. It is driving me batty. When I bring a piece of cake with my lunch they make me feel like a criminal. One girl told another girl I brought fattening things on purpose to make her drool. I am inclined toward being slim and can't help it if she is a fat slob. These girls are ruining what was once a pleasant job. Any suggestions?

THE GIRL AT UNITED

DEAR GIRL: People who are fighting the battle of the bulge need all the help they can get. Slip away and eat the sweets in private like a good girl.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: In our school we have a teacher who has gotten away with slapping children across the face, the back and shaking them good and hard. She has taught school for many years and all the children dread going into her class. Parents have gone to the principal about her but nothing ever happens. The children of the parents who complained have been mistreated all the more. She makes no bones in class about not liking children but is smooth as they come when talking to parents. Let me add, the children are only seven years old. We mothers would truthfully like to know what to do about it.

ANGRY PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: Get up a petition of complaints with as many signatures as you can secure (Don't forget the Dads) . . . A representative of your group should make an appointment with the Superintendent of Schools and present it personally.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: This may sound terrible but it is true. I have lost all respect for my mother. She will tell me to do something and I know she won't say anything if I don't do it, so I don't. I have been asked to clean up my room but I keep on letting it go because my mother will do it if I wait long enough. I am 15 years old and admit I am spoiled because I get just about anything I want, but I am not happy. My girlfriend does the family laundry on week-ends, has to do dishes every night and doesn't even get an allowance and she is much happier than I am. I can't figure it out, Abby, can you?

UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: The child who is given responsibility at home, and is made to toe the mark, is always much happier. Children NEED to be disciplined to feel secure.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago a fellow named DANNY wrote to you asking how to meet a nice woman. Object — marriage. I was in his boat a few years back and I tried for two years, after my wife died, to find a nice woman, but the result was zero. Finally I advertised in a newspaper for a housekeeper. Did I get answers! About a hundred of them. To make a long story short a nice, single lady, age 40, got the job. She has been here ever since. I married her and no two people have ever been happier. —portending events are casting an aura of brightness this morning. The news this morning is gay—It is generously dotted with courtesies for a bride-elect, and we learned that a recent bride, Mrs. Sam Olson, the former Marilyn Minor of Tecumseh, also is to receive attention.

And speaking of bride-elect—a new name soon will be added to the list, and we suspect we shall be having the announcement before too many days have come and gone.

—you may have guessed that the bridal spotlight is turned on Miss Holly Hawke this morning. As you know Miss Hawke has a later November date for her marriage to Donald Robert Larson of Santa Barbara, Calif.

The much feted bride-to-be will begin another series of courtesies on Monday when Mrs. Bennett S. Martin will be a coffee hostess between the hours of 10 o'clock and 12 o'clock at her home.

A Tuesday evening courtesy, complimenting the bride-elect, will be the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ellis will be a host and hostess when they entertain at the University Club. The guest list will include members of the families.

* * *

—Miss Hawke will share honors with Mrs. Sam Olson on Thursday when Mrs. Emmett Junge and Mrs. M. G. Volz entertain at brunch at the home of Mrs. Junge.

Guests have been invited for the hours between 11 o'clock and 1 o'clock, and during the first hour Mrs. Olson will be honored. The second hour, between 12 o'clock and 1 o'clock, will compliment Miss Hawke. Both Mrs. Olson and Miss Hawke will be presented with a Christmas tree ornaments shower.

* * *

—Saturday, Nov. 15, is a red letter day on Miss Hawke's calendar—that is the day Mr. Larson arrives from Santa Barbara, and on that evening Miss Hawke and Mr. Larson will be honored when Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carson preside at a family dinner at the Lincoln Country Club.

And on the following evening, Sunday, Nov. 16, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walt will pay prenuptial courtesy to Miss Hawke and her fiance when they are a supper host and hostess at their home. The guest list will include only members of the families.

* * *

—another of the soon-to-be brides is Alpha Phi's Miss Karen Lindsay of Grand Island whose marriage to Donald Fitzgerald of Denver will take place on Dec. 27.

Miss Lindsay will be an honoree on Sunday morning when her aunt, Mrs. Charles W. Swingle, and her cousin, Miss Suzie Swingle, will be 11 o'clock brunch hostesses at their home.

And then we heard that Mr. and Mrs. Price May and their two daughters, Martha and Mary, will visit Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lowe and their family in Sutton on Sunday.

SOUTH HILLS

It sounds as if Mr. and Mrs. Don Miltner and their son, Donnie, have an exciting week end on the agenda. The Miltner family left for York on Thursday where where they are visiting both Mr. and Mrs. Miltner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miltner, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Swartz. While they are in York they will celebrate Mrs. Fred Milener's and Mrs. Swartz's birthdays.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Some of the stopping points on their travel agenda are Kansas City, Kan., Corpus Christi, Tex., and Mexico City, and Monterey, Mex.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers, David, Julie, and Sally; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shelley, Nancy Carol and Seven, and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilcox and their children, Gay, David, and Randy. After the children went trick and treating the group played games and had cider and doughnuts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson of Fremont were the celebrants at a party on Saturday night in Hollingsworth Heights when their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Leth, honored them on their 40th wedding anniversary. Relatives who attended the dinner party were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Johnson and their family; Mrs. A. S. Lawrence, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Raffety and their family, all of Fremont. All of Mr. and Mrs. Leth's relatives attended the party except one of Mrs. Leth's brothers and his family.

One of the events on the social calendar in Hollingsworth Heights last week was the neighborhood coffee at the home of Mrs. Millard Brumfield. The coffee was given in honor of two new residents, Mrs. E. L. Felton, and Mrs. Wayne Engelbart. Those on the guest list included Mrs. Clay Cox, Mrs. Albert Spann, Mrs. J. R. Hansen, Mrs. Dick Campbell, Mrs. Ted Martin, Mrs. Jack Cunningham, Mrs. E. H. French, Mrs. Harry Leth, and Mrs. Harry Howard.

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

Congratulations to you all!!

Of news at Lincoln High is the selection of the Mummer's Club play cast. Congratulations to Coach Jim Sommers and the Lincoln High Links on their victory over Omaha Tech last Friday. There was a wonderful turnout at Omaha to cheer our team on to victory. What do you say we do the same against Lincoln Northeast this Friday? Let's go Links — beat the Rockets.

The Safety Committee recently selected Arlene Jundt as their new president. Other officers are Kathi Kimmel, vice-president; and Carrol McAllister, secretary. The Safety Committee has really organized this year, and they are planning for a large membership. The meetings will be held the fourth Wednesday of each month.

Say, I heard recently of a very exciting trip taken to Burwell, by four of the American Field Service Students. Kathy Pighills from England attending Lincoln Southeast, John Meridink from Holland attending University High, Chip Kuklin and Jean Morrison both A.F.S. returnees at L.H.S., and Mrs. Frank Morrison, co-chairman of the local A.F.S. committee, set out to spend the day at Burwell High School which is way up in the Sandhills and ranching territory. The students spoke to the student body at Burwell High, and attended a few classes. Later on they were guests at a ranch for dinner. Here they encountered their first experience with straddling a horse. The students talked in the evening to a group of businessmen.

Halloween found many senior spooks and witches at Janice Anderson's slumber party Friday. The girls took in the midnight show and then returned to Janice's to gossip slumber, while vissions of goblins ran through their heads.

What six junior girls will be chosen as apprentice cheerleaders at 'ole L.H.S.? As the tension and excitement builds up for try-outs Nov. 12, no one seems to know who they will be. Watch for my next column, the names will be revealed.

Will Head LWC Group

At the Thursday afternoon program and tea of the Lincoln Woman's Club home department, held at the Club House, Mrs. I. H. Shellenbarger was named leader of the group succeeding Mrs. Carter E. Duncan, who with her family will leave Lincoln in the near future.

Mrs. Shellenbarger (seated at left) is pictured with other department officers including Mrs. L. Reid Jackson (seated at right), assistant leader; Mrs. Marvin Russell (standing, left), secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Ralph Lind, social chairman.

Fagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fagan of Lincoln. The altar of St. Francis Xavier Church in La Grange was appointed with white chrysanthemums and gladioli for the ceremony, which was solemnized by the Rev. H. P. O'Gara.

Wearing bustle-backed frocks of iridescent green taffeta were Mrs. R. G. Zelinski of Lyons, Ill., who was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Geraldine Riedy, Lisle, Ill., Miss Barbara Hoppenrath, Brookfield, Ill., Miss Penny Welsh, Springfield, Ill., and Miss Carolyn Reisch, La Grange, Ill. They carried sprays of green-tinted Fujii chrysanthemums and ivy.

William King of La Grange served as best man, and seating the guests were Richard Hall, La Grange; F. V. Votsmier, Jr., Summit, Ill.; Glen Place and Soren S. Jensen, Lincoln.

The bride chose for her wedding a period gown of white tissue taffeta. Appliques of pearl-dotted lace framed the portrait neckline of the long-sleeved bodice and were repeated on the wide skirt, which was accented by a draped polonaise caught into a pouf bustle. Her illusion veil was held by a jeweled coronet, and she carried a cascade of Amazon lilies, stephanotis and ivy.

A wedding breakfast for family members and the bridal party at the River Forest Country Club, Elmhurst, Ill., was followed by a reception for 200 guests.

Mr. Fagan and his bride, a former student at Sacred Heart Academy, Lisle, Ill., will reside in La Grange. The bridegroom attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, Sigma Tau, Newman Club and Innocents Society for senior men.

Had Autumn Wedding

MR. AND MRS. LA RUE BARTLING

For the wedding of Miss Ruth Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Potter, and La Rue Bartling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Bartling, all of Hebron, which took place on Sunday, Oct. 12, bronze and gold chrysanthemums and autumn foliage decorated the First Methodist Church at Hebron. The Rev. Norman Smitheram of Lincoln read the lines of the afternoon ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Miss Luella Potter, organist and sister of the bride. The vocalist was Miss Shirley Smitheram.

Wearing identical full-skirted frocks in shades of gold and bronze were Mrs. Harry Schaeffer of Lincoln, who was her sister's matron of honor, and Miss Beverly Bartling, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Carol Davis, who lighted the candles. Mrs. Schaeffer carried chrysanthemums in autumn tones.

Merle Hartley served as best man, and seating the guests were Walt Hendershot, uncle of the bridegroom, and Harry Schaeffer.

The bride wore for her wedding a gown of white polished cotton in the daytime length. The snug bodice was designed with a rounded neckline and cuffed, bracelet sleeves, and the skirt of unpressed pleats flared into hemline width. Her short veil of illusion was held by a tiara of pearlized blossoms, and she carried a cascade of Talisman roses.

Mr. Bartling, who recently completed service with the Marine Corps, and his bride will make their home in Lincoln.

"I'll tell him about my new hat while he's eating his Supreme Salad Wafers." Can crackers be this good? No, ordinary crackers can't, but Supreme Salad Wafers can. You see, Supreme Bakers are peevishly particular about their shortening and the other ingredients they use, brood over their ovens like mother hens. Is it any wonder Supreme Salad Wafers have a husband-happy flavor? No.

Loup Objects To Power District Status For G&T

By Betty Person

An objection to the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Co-operative's proposal that it be changed to a public power district was filed Thursday with State Water Resources Director Dan Jones Jr. by Loup River Public Power District.

At the same time, Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District filed a motion for continuance of the original hearings on G&T's proposal.

In its list of objections filed with Jones, Loup requested another hearing on the G&T petition and asked Jones to deny the requested transfer to a public power district unless certain defects were cleared up.

Jones held a hearing Oct. 27 on the G&T petition, but the meeting was thrown into an uproar when G&T offered an amended petition which would prohibit the proposed new district from building or acquiring generation or transmission facilities without the approval of Consumers Public Power District, as well as Loup and Platte.

After learning of the inclusion of Consumers, Loup and Platte asked for a continuance to study the proposal and Jones gave the district's until 2 p.m. Thursday to file objections.

Upon learning that Loup had filed an objection and that Platte had asked for a continuance, A. L. Chantry of West Point, G&T general manager, told The Lincoln Star that G&T has asked Jones to set a new hearing Nov. 13 and that it "will withdraw any amendments and start over fresh."

Chantry said, "We hope this will result in a negotiated truce and that we can go ahead as planned."

Jones said late Thursday that he did not yet know when a new hearing will be held, but estimated it could not be before early December due to conflicting engagements.

In its objection, Loup contends that the original petition is deficient in that it fails to state the exact location of the proposed disrict, and fails to explain the exact nature of the business which the new district proposes to do.

It further states that the language of the amendment to the petition is such that the proposed district could exercise powers which would conflict with those of Loup, and which do not conform with public convenience and welfare.

Sewage Plant Operators Hold Awards Banquet, Convention

Ten operators of sewage treatment plants in Nebraska were honored to highlight a banquet Thursday of Nebraska Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn.

Dr. Ralph E. Fuhrman, secretary of the Federation of Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn., Washington, D.C., made the presentations. He also spoke on the role of the operator in modern sewage plants.

More than 70 persons registered at the group's 7th annual convention.

The two-day program, which ends Friday, includes a number of speakers slated to relate technical details of sewage treatment and plant operation.

Awards presented:

The William D. Hatfield Award — Lorren Brannen, Central City; presented by Federation of Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn., in recognition of outstanding sewage works operations and awarded once every 3 years to a member of the Nebraska Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn.

The Arther Sidney Bedell Award — Victor J. Lechtenberg, Omaha; presented by Federation of Sewage and Industrial Wastes to acknowledge extraordinary personal service to a member association of the federation and awarded once every 3 years.

Scott Wilber Award — Jim Bricker, Paxton, part time operation; Harry Case, Sidney, full time operator; Carl Chin, Omaha, full time operator; presented by Nebraska Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn. in recognition of outstanding sewage treatment plant operation and awarded in memory of the late Scott Wilber, former superintendent of the Papillion Creek sewage treatment plant in Omaha.

Honorary Awards — Ray Hanna, Kimball, Leroy Nelson, Ainsworth; Albert Jones, Stapleton; Ed Kratochvil, Elmwood; Alex Kehm, Grand Island, and Loren Brannen, Central City.

Lechtenberg is secretary of the Nebraska group.

New officers will be elected at a luncheon meeting Friday. Morning sessions will include discussions of the status of sewage plants in Nebraka and the training of plant operators.

A survey of the Lincoln sewage plant Friday afternoon will conclude the meeting.

WESTERN LEAGUE STILL BREATHES

WL's Time Short

Lincoln Star Special

Memphis, Tenn.—The Western League apparently lived on a fielder's choice Wednesday, but it still appeared only a matter of time before the nation's oldest Class A League is picked off the Organized Baseball roster.

According to the Associated Press, the minor league realignment plan—conceived by Bill DeWitt's major league fund group—hit the skids Wednesday when negotiations between the American Association and the Texas League for the transfer of franchises failed.

This step was vital to the DeWitt plan—the Association to take some TL clubs and expand to a 10-team league.

The Texas League, after dealing off some of its cities, was supposed to cop from two to three Western League franchises.

But the Wednesday floppo apparently gave the Western some breathing room, although this isn't expected to last very long. There seemed to be some conflicting reports circulating here, but WL officials were wearing long faces.

The AP quoted Western League Pres. O. M. Hobbs as saying:

"It means nothing to me. I'm a newspaperman. That's my bread and butter. But I hope the rest of the guys can be taken care of.

"We can't operate as a Class A League without working agreements, and there aren't enough to go around.

"I hate to see it but that's the way the wind blows. We came here hoping to get a few apples in the basket but what we get is this (the realignment plan which kills the WL)."

The AP also speculated that Lincoln, Colorado Springs and Pueblo were "tentatively the orphan clubs," with Des Moines, Amarillo, Albuquerque, Topeka and Sioux City to be "slipped into other loops in a re-shuffle still undecided."

This, however, doesn't jell with previous reports, according to reliable sources.

Several WL clubs have expressed "unofficial" interest in the Three-I League—Lincoln among them—and there seems to be a good chance for them to get consideration at a Nov. 23rd meeting in Chicago.

NU Frosh Seek Revenge Against K-Staters Today

By Ron Speer

A year ago the Kansas State frosh thrashed the Nebraska yearlings 31-7.

That score has been bandied about by this year's NU newcomers, and one thing is certain.

Nebraska's freshmen don't intend to let it happen again. "We're very optimistic about the outcome of our game Friday with Kansas State," frosh Coach Warren Schmakel said Thursday night.

"The boys talk about nothing else. They have worked real hard. And they intend to make up for the trouncing we took last year.

Today's game starts at 3 p.m. at Memorial Stadium. If the weather remains fair, a crowd of 5,000 is expected to see the footballers of tomorrow battle.

The NU team outweighs the Kansas visitors 196 to 192 teamwise. Jim Huge, left end, and Ron Meade, quarterback, are the only starters that tip the scales at less than 190 for the Huskers.

Schmakel expects the K-Staters to pass a lot, and has been stressing pass defense.

Here is a thumbnail sketch of Nebraska's starters:

Center — Mick Tinglehoff, Lexington, 190: Knows Husker offense well, good linebacker.

Right tackle — Monte Kiffin, Lexington, 218: Very aggressive, one of hardest workers on team, improving on offense.

Right end — Roger Cole, Granite Falls, Minn., 195: Strong farm boy, improving rapidly.

Left half — Noel Martin, Clay Center, Kan., 195: Runs like a fullback, plenty of power, All-American as a Kansas prepster.

Right half — Pat Clare, Sioux City, 195: Gained 113 yards in win over Iowa State, averaged 7 yards per carry, good backfield prospect, has size and fair speed.

Quarterback—Ron Meade, Canby, Minn., 170: Smallest player on team, but runs option play well, a good leader, fair passer and improving.

Fullback — Dave Roberts, Longview, Wash., 190: Another good prospect, hits line like a block-buster, likes to run over opponents.

Purcell To Play

Don Purcell, Omaha end who suffered a knee injury early in the season, is expected to see plenty of action at right end as relief for Cole. He's been a standout in workouts.

Others to watch today include halfback Hugh Smith of Guymon, Okla.; halfback Dallas Dyer of Lexington; quarterbacks Conrad Leifur of Bismarck, N.D., and Ron Gilbreath of Sidney; guard Pete Williams of Dayton, O.; tackles Duane DuBois of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Al Harants of Grosse Point, Mich.; Jon Skaug of Kansas City, center; and ends Phil Case of Tekamah and Pat Salerno of Omaha.

5 Nebraskans

The starting lineup includes 5 Nebraska prepsters, 3 from Minnesota, and one each from Kansas, Washington and Iowa.

K-State Starters

Probable Kansas State starters today are: Ends, Steve Wohlert (200) and Al Kouneski (195); tackles, Dick Corrigan (205) and Tom Brettschneider (220); guards, Jim Sanderson (188) and Neal Spence (195); center, Ralph Oringderff (195); quarterback, Gary Kershner (165); halfbacks, Norman Maxwell (185) and Harold Haun (175); fullback, Don Goodpasture (187).

NU Won, K-S Lost

Nebraska won its only other start, trimming the Iowa State frosh 21-14. K-State lost to the Kansas newcomers 36-21 in its first outing.

A win today would give the Nebraska freshmen a clean slate—something no NU frosh team has accomplished in many years.

It would also bolster the morale of Cornhusker fans. Many of today's freshmen will be called on for heavy duty with the varsity next fall.

Louisville To Get Wichita Franchise

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)— The Milwaukee Braves announced Thursday they intend to transfer their Wichita franchise in the American Assn. to Louisville.

Birdie Tebbetts, executive vice-president of the Braves, said the move had received the sanction of American Assn. President Ed Doherty.

Louisville, which finished last in the Association last year, declared recently it could not operate in 1959 unless its financial losses are underwritten by a major league club. Colonel officials estimated the club lost $46,000 last year and needed around $50,000 in order to operate next season.

Rocky Lauded

Cleveland (AP) — Outfielder Rocky Colavito has been selected as the Cleveland Indians' "Man of the Year" by the Cleveland chapter of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. He will be honored at the chapter's annual dinner Jan. 19.

Realignment Plan Halted

Memphis (AP)—The minor league realignment plan apparently collapsed Thursday when the Texas League and the American Assn. failed to reach an agreement regarding the transfer of their clubs.

The American Assn. proposed to purchase one club from the Texas League, an offer which was refused. The Texas League, in turn, proposed that the American Assn. take 3 of its clubs which also was rejected.

The American Assn., which earlier in the day granted the Milwaukee Braves permission to switch their Wichita franchise to Louisville, had asked the Texas League to set a price on the Fort Worth club. The Texas League declared it would make no deal unless the American Assn. also took Houston and Dallas.

The addition of 3 clubs would have expanded the American Assn. to 10 clubs which the league directors opposed.

The situation thus leaves the American Assn. with 7 clubs. League President Ed Doherty said that applications for an 8th club would be accepted until Nov. 30.

Dick Butler, president of the Texas League, declared his circuit was prepared to operate with the same 8 clubs that finished the 1958 season.

Des Moines Considered

Des Moines (AP)—Des Moines has taken under consideration an invitation to join Sioux City, Lincoln and Topeka in a move from the Western League to the Class B Three-I Baseball League.

The invitation was extended by Three-I President Hal Totten who said the other 3 Western League teams have applied for membership in his circuit.

A decision on Des Moines' switch will depend on whether the opportunity arises to advance from the Class A Western to the Triple A American Assn. Herb Drey, president of Baseball, Inc. which operates the Des Moines Franchise, said:

"We want to keep professional baseball in Des Moines. But we want to explore all possibilities. We want to find out whether the people here really want Triple A ball."

Drey will attend the minor league meetings in Washington early next month.

St. Joseph's Keeps Slate Clean, 55-7

Lincoln Star Special

Beatrice—Footballers from Beatrice St. Joseph's closed out the school's first undefeated season in history with a 55-7 rout of Falls City Sacred Heart Thursday night.

Joe Richling was the leading scorer for the victors, tallying on runs of 7, 48 and one. Jerry Fisher and Matt Schumacher also were outstanding in the winners' backfield.

The triumph gave St. Joseph's an 8-0 record. The school collected two conference titles en route to their perfect mark, winning the Homesteader and Gage County football crowns.

St. Joseph's scored 23 points in the final quarter. Sacred Heart led 7-6 at the end of the first period but were outmanned the rest of the game.

Olson, Young Sign For Rematch

Oakland, Calif. (AP) — Bobo Olson and Paddy Young who fought for the American middleweight title in 1953 will collide on the light heavyweight comeback trail here Nov. 25.

Olson beat Young in their big middleweight battle and went on to take the world title against Randy Turpin. Last month in comeback matches, Young fought a draw with Otis Woodward and Bobo stopped Don Grant in the 7th round.

Going into this 10-round fight at the Oakland Auditorium, Young's record stands at 49-12-3 and Bobo's at 67-10-0.

Zaruba Given Halfback Post

Fischer, Martz Doubtful Against KU Saturday

By Don Bryant

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, badly-mauled after 7 weeks of the 1958 season, wound up drills for the Kansas game Thursday and Coach Bill Jennings didn't take any more chances.

He ordered the Huskers into sweat clothes and spent the afternoon polishing plans for the Jayhawks, who have been installed as 8-point favorites.

It wasn't so much that the Huskers couldn't have used a little more rough work.

"We just couldn't risk another injury," Bill said. "We were running punt protection practice at half-speed Wednesday and had a boy hurt. So we worked in sweat clothes today."

Zaruba

There were a couple of position changes Thursday and the Husker coach indicated that he expects little or no help from halfbacks Pat Fischer and Max Martz Saturday.

No. 2 fullback Carroll Zaruba was installed at left halfback and Jennings said he would start there against Kansas. Zaruba played halfback in 1957.

In the other change LeRoy Zentic was shifted from right guard to right tackle where he'll open Saturday.

Jennings said that both Fischer and Martz will make the trip, but that neither is being counted on for much service.

"I don't see how Max can be ready for much action," Bill explained.

The traveling squad, with starters listed first:

Centers—Don Fricke, Jim Moore, Bob Kitchen, Duane Salak.
Right tackles—LeRoy Zentic, Al Wellman, John Luecke.
Right ends — John Bond, Guy Sapp, Scott Simon.
Quarterbacks — George Harshman, Harry Tolly, Roy Stinnett.
Right halfbacks—Larry Naviaux, Clay White, Joe Dickson.
Fullbacks — Dick McCashland, Lee Bigelow, Lloyd Scarrow.

Short shots . . . The Huskers will workout here Friday afternoon, watch part of the NU-K-State freshman game and then bus to Topeka at 5:30 p.m., spending the night there. . . . End Roland McDole, who rejoined the squad after a bout with a virus infection, has had to return to Student Health.

Cards Topple All-Stars 6-3

Hiroshima, Japan (AP) — The touring St. Louis Cardinals Thursday received a rousing welcome in this atom-bombed city and then battered the Japan All-Stars, 6-3, to the cheers of 16,000 fans. The crowd included 5,000 American marines and sailors.

POINT BLANK

* * *

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

While hope springs eternal, discretion is the better part of valor.

Therefore, it can be said with a reasonable degree of certainness that Nebraska has one more chance for victory this fall. That, of course, is against Kansas this week. Few will dispute the fact that the Huskers can hardly hope to beat Pittsburgh and Oklahoma.

If some of the cripples can get in a few good licks, and the Huskers get their chins off their battered chests, they can probably whip the Jayhawks, who will be favored but must be considered in the same class with the Scarlets.

At this point, the outcome probably depends more on who scraps the hardest, although the Jayhawks have started to jell and the Huskers haven't had a chance to regroup for weeks.

But the Cornhuskers have done their best playing when they were underdogs so they should put on a good show this week.

* * *

Someone recently accused me of picking scores by the bookie sheets. This is ridiculous. If the bookies haven't had any more success than I have had this fall, they're going broke in wholesale numbers—which ain't the case, by the way.

Last week I managed 26 for 42, dragging the yearly percentage figure down to a measly .653. Wishing the bookies good luck, I'll go this way:

Big 8

KANSAS 19, NEBRASKA 14 . . . Huskers like being underdogs and may surprise.

MISSOURI 27, COLORADO 17 . . . Buffs finished season on unhappy note last week.

OKLAHOMA 38, IOWA STATE 0 . . . Boomer Sooner.

OKLAHOMA STATE 43, KANSAS STATE 20 . . . Wildcats, like Huskers, don't have enough.

Big 10

MICHIGAN 16, ILLINOIS 8 . . . Could be closer.

MICHIGAN STATE 21, INDIANA 13 . . . Could be worse.

IOWA 28, MINNESOTA 6 . . . Hawkeyes best in land.

WISCONSIN 15, NORTHWESTERN 13 . . . Should be a dandy.

OHIO STATE 23, PURDUE 17 . . . If Don Clark can't play, Boilermakers may take apples.

East

Army 34, Rice 12 . . . Princeton 19, Harvard 7 . . . Cornell 23, Brown 15 . . . Dartmouth 17, Columbia 10 . . . Rutgers 31, Lafayette 8 . . . Penn 20, Yale 19 (or vice

NU Fans Hungry, Thirsty

The Nebraska football team isn't burning up the league but Husker games have attracted some hungry and thirsty customers.

L. F. (Pop) Klein, concession director at NU, Thursday reported that in 4 home games this fall sales are way above the 5-game mark a year ago.

Last year, after the 5-game season, goodie sales grossed $35,764.29. This year, with sales of only 4 games recorded and the Husker-Pitt game remaining, the take has been $38,296.74.

Cold drinks have been the big seller, Klein said, "The good weather on home games was a big factor in sales this fall. If it's cold we sell coffee, but that never goes over as well as cold drinks on a hot afternoon."

Profits from concession sales — which normally amount to more than one-third of the gross income—all go into the Grant-In-Aid Fund.

Links Big Favorite In Football Finale

GAMES TONIGHT
Northeast at Lincoln High (Oval, 7:30 p.m.)
Southeast .... at Omaha Holy Name

By Bob McCoy

The grandaddy of Lincoln intracity prep football rivalries, the 18th annual Lincoln High-Lincoln Northeast battle takes top billing on a local slate which winds up the 1958 season tonight.

The Links and the Rockets are scheduled to play at 7:30 p.m. at the Oval. Lincoln Southeast, the Capital City's other active team tonight, travels to Omaha Holy Name.

Links Dominate

The Lincoln High-Northeast rivalry has been one in which the Links have dominated play almost completely. The LHS record in the series shows 14 victories while Northeast has won two times and another game—last year's battle—ended in a tie.

The Links are expected to pick up their 15th win tonight with ease. Lincoln High has had a winning season to date while Northeast has suffered through one of its most disastrous years.

Lincoln High has a 4-3 mark for coach Jim Sommers while Northeast's record is a disappointed 1-7. Art Bauer's club has lost 7 straight since winning its opener.

Backs Return

Tonight's contest will mark the return of two of the Capital City's top backs. Lincoln High will have quarterback John Zuerlein, sidelined the last two weeks with a virus infection, back in the lineup while Northeast's LeRoy Bentz, out 4 weeks with an injured leg, is slated to see some action.

Southeast, winner of 4 straight, bids for a winning season against unbeaten Omaha Holy Name at its finale tonight.

The Knights have come along fast after a hectic start and will be a slight favorite over the Ramblers, the second rated Class B team in the state.

A Southeast triumph would tie the Knight record for most season victories and would give coach Tom Gillaspie his second straight 5-4 record.

Lincoln's other prep team, Pius X, finished a 4-3-1 season last week.

1958 Prep Grid Finale Set Tonight

By Al Beebe

Nebraska prep football holds its last big weekend of action today with several conference contests due to be decided in final round games.

Almost all teams conclude their schedules today, with only a few carrying over another week.

League crowns on the line include the West Big 10, Inter-City, and West Central 10. Scottsbluff meets Alliance for the right to play Columbus in the Big 10 playoff. Omaha South must beat rival Omaha North to gain a tie with Creighton Prep in the Inter-City, and Ord must beat Aurora for the West Central 10.

Several other contests of importance are also set today, including the annual Lincoln High-Lincoln Northeast battle.

Last week's prediction score was 27-10, leaving the season total percentage the same, 224-82—.732.

Northeast at Lincoln High—Past records generally go out the window in this rivalry, but how much can you ignore? The Links should romp to city title.

Lincoln Southeast at Omaha Holy Name — Knights are moving fast now, but tough, rated in Class B Ramblers could prove difficult. SE by a narrow count.

Scottsbluff at Alliance—Bearcats should have no difficulty earning playoff trip.

Omaha South at Omaha North—Vikings make it a battle, but that's all.

Ord at Aurora—Home team has been tough, and could tie for title with a win. But Chants shouldn't stumble again.

Holdrege at McCook—Dusters finish unbeaten season in usual fashion—a thriller.

The others (selection in black type):

Lunches With Queen

London (AP) — Mike Hawthorn, 1958 world auto racing champion, lunched with Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip at Buckingham Palace Thursday.

Assembly To Discuss Proposals

Two proposals which have not been recommended for adoption will be prime topics of discussion by the NSAA Representative Assembly meeting here Dec. 4.

The proposals, put on the agenda by the Legislative Commission would move up one week the dates of football practice and opening games, and would eliminate one basketball class.

The Legislative Commission recommended that the present plans of football dates and practices be retained, but that the secretary be allowed to make exceptions for teams which play two-thirds of their games with out - of - state schools, provided the opening game is with an out-of-state team. Most other states follow an earlier practice schedule.

The basketball tournament classification proposal is to "be changed in some manner to combine Classes E and D and still retain the same proportion of representation in the State Tournament. This would be for the purpose of reducing travel distance for district tournaments and playoffs."

The commission recommended discussion of the item, but no action is likely to be taken this year.

Omahan Purchases High-Price Nag

St. Louis (AP) —A mare has been sold at auction to an Omaha, Neb., business executive for $30,000, said to be the highest price ever paid in America for a 3-gaited horse.

The 5-year-old mare, Delightful Society, was one of 104 horses of Odee Farm Stables, owned by Louis Greenspon, St. Louis steel firm executive, which were auctioned at a two-day sale.

The $30,000 sale was to Donald Decker, president of Decker Enterprises Inc. of Omaha. The mare won the junior 3-gaited and the 3-year-old stakes at the Kentucky State Fair in 1956.

Rams Add 5,000 Seats For 49ers

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams have announced that 5,000 or more temporary seats will be installed in Memorial Coliseum to help ease the demand for room for the Ram-San Francisco 49er football game Sunday.

General Manager Pete Rozelle said most of the seats will be erected on the flat expanse behind the present tiers in the east, or open, end of the stadium.

Maxwell Atlanta Leader

Atlanta (AP) — Texan Billy Maxwell, a sure shot with a putter, fired an amazing 8-under-par 64 over the challenging Cherokee Country Club Course to take the lead with 136 at mid-point of the Atlanta Open golf tournament.

"Billy the Kid," a boyish looking 29-year-old Odessa pro said everything was going for him, particularly on the green during what he called his "best putting round ever."

Challenging Maxwell's lofty position after 36 holes of the 72-hole, $25,000 tournament, was Baltimore pro Bill Collins who had 138 after shooting a 70 to go with his 68.

Four strokes off the blistering pace with 140 was Julius Boros, swathy Mid Pines, N. C., pro and 7th ranked PGA money winner for the year. He registered a solid 66 to go with a first round 74.

Billy Casper, big, powerful knocker from Apple Valley, Calif., runnerup in earnings for the year, had a 69 for a 141 total. Also at 141 was Bob Watson, Ardsley-On-Hudson, N.Y.

Charlie Harrison of Atlanta with 73-73—146 nosed out fellow townsman Gene Dahlbender by a stroke to take low amateur honors.

The field was cut at the end of the round to the top 70 pros and all of the 10 amateurs of the 122-man starting field to include 152 shooters and better. Sunday the field will be cut to the 60 top pros and ties plus the 10 amateurs.

'Record' Deer All A Mistake

Sidney (AP)—State Game officials in Sidney have credited a reported "record" deer kill to a misreading of the scales which doubled the actual figure.

Game Conservation Officer Ralph Craig of Chappell said the deer, originally reported to weigh 344 pounds hog dressed, actually hit the scales at 200 pounds.

The deer was shot Saturday by Ed Hiett of Sidney.

Lawrence Defense Sets Up 25-7 Win

By Al Beebe

Fairmont — Undefeated Lawrence met its stiffest competition but ground out a 25-7 victory over Milford in the Pioneer Conference playoff here Thursday night.

Lawrence's rugged defense set up all 4 touchdowns and didn't allow Milford to cross the midfield stripe until leading 25-0 in the 4th quarter.

Milford fumbled on the first play after kickoff, Mick Pohlmeier recovered and passed to John Beyke 3 plays later for a 29-yard Lawrence TD.

Lawrence scored its 2nd tally when Milford gambled in midfield on 4th down and the Lawrence line, led by Don Ostdiek, held and Lawrence took over on the Milford 30. Pohlmeier did most of the running and Ostdiek shifted from guard to the backfield to crack the final 2 yards for the score.

The 3rd period touchdown was set up when Beyke blocked a punt by Jake Scherzinger giving Lawrence the ball on the Milford 8. Pohlmeier scored from the 7 two plays later.

The final Lawrence touchdown early in the final period came after Milford fumbled a kickoff. Lawrence took the ball on the Milford 33, a 15-yard penalty aided the drive and Pohlmeier scored from the 8.

Milford's only touchdown came after a Lawrence penalty moved the ball to the winner's 33. Two passes from Tim Tolle to Scherzinger carried to the one but Scherzinger fumbled after the final pass.

Lawrence recovered and punted on the first down. Tolle returned to the 19. A Tolle-to-Jim Schirmer pass gained to the 4 and Scherzinger plunged over 2 plays later from the 2.

Lawrence thus padded its No. 1 8-man rating.

Milford	0	0	0	7	—7
Lawrence	6	6	7	6	—25

Milford: TD, J. Scherzinger (2, run), PAT, Schirmer.

Lawrence: TD, Beyke (29, pass from M. Pohlmeier); Ostdiek (2, run); M. Pohlmeier 2 (7, 8, runs). PAT, Ostdiek.

STATE SCHOOLS GET 63% OF NU PLACED TEACHERS

Slightly more than 68% of the teachers who found positions through the University of Nebraska Teacher Placement Division last year are teaching in Nebraska schools, the division's annual report shows. This is slightly over the 1956-57 percentage.

Four hundred sixteen teachers accepted positions in 75 Nebraska counties to fill some of the 2,625 requests from 89 counties received by the division.

According to Dr. Wesley C. Meierhenry, division co-ordinator, one noticeable trend during the year was that teachers with 4-year degrees tended to leave Nebraska for positions in other states.

California and Colorado were Nebraska's biggest competitors, taking 38 and 33, respectively.

Furthermore, Dr. Meierhenry said, Nebraska, like many other states, is continuing to lose the badly needed persons qualified to teach mathematics and science to higher paying industrial jobs.

The annual report shows the teacher shortage to be especially acute in the primary and junior elementary grades.

For the 2,054 requests received for first and 2nd grade teachers there were only 54 applicants. For 341 7th and 8th grade listings there was one applicant. The shortage in the 4th through 6th grades was almost as severe.

On the high school and college level, the shortage was concentrated mainly in the fields of physical sciences and mathematics. On the other hand, Dr. Meierhenry noted, there was difficulty in placing students wanting to teach social studies and physical education, especially for men.

This indicates, Dr. Meierhenry emphasized, that the shortage is selective, and where it exists, it is extremely bad.

The report showed that during 1957-58, 1,038 persons registered with the service and 16,700 requests for teachers were received from all over the United States and a few foreign countries. This represents an increase of more than 2,000 requests over the previous year, but an increase of only 91 applicants. Of these, 606 persons were placed in new positions.

LAFB To Get $3.5 Million For Building

Lincoln Air Force Base will receive $3,678,000 as part of a $306 milloin program for construction at airbases, the Air Force announced Thursday in Washington.

A LAFB official said as soon as word is received from Washington dates will be set for construction.

Funds were allocated for construction of airfield pavement, radar approach control center, air field approach lengthening, readiness crew building and aircraft maintenance shop.

Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, received $1,500,000 for airmen's dormitories and a dining hall

Another Nebraska installation, Omaha Air Force Station, received $75,000 for an operations building.

Members of Congress were notified by the Air Force of the allocations.

Grandchild Of Bryan Has Hopes Ruined

From Press Dispatches

Altadena, Cal. — Discovery of a 10,000-vote error spelled the end of a short-lived Congressional victory for the granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan.

Mrs. Rudd Brown went to bed Wednesday night thinking she had won the race for Congressman from the 21st District of California. By morning the county registrar found that incumbent Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand had been credited with only 23,000 at a time when he should have had 33,000.

"Somebody," the registrar said, "pushed a wrong digit."

The final tally was 124,104 for Hiestand to 116,687 for Mrs. Brown. A recount was begun immediately.

Mrs. Brown took the defeat like a trooper. "I'm disappointed, naturally," she said, "but I knew it was possible, even last night. I know there always can be an error."

Boys Name Their Own Punishment

Two teenagers who pleaded guilty in Lancaster County Court to theft of gasoline got just what they asked for Thursday.

When Judge Ralph Slocum heard the story of their theft of about 10 gallons of gasoline from the General Steel Products Co. Tuesday, he turned to the two boys and asked:

"If you were in my place, what would you do?"

"Send us up" was the gist of the answer the judge received.

Roy C. Morgan, 16, of 1545 So. 17th and Gordon L. Quincy, 16, of 1529 So. 24, were fined $10 and sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Judge Gives Eno Week's Continuance

The Federal Court jury trial of Gordon M. Eno, Lincoln insurance man charged with filing false income tax returns for 1951, 1952 and 1953, was recessed Thursday for one week.

The defense requested the continuance in the 4-day-old trial after the government introduced evidence of alleged unreported taxable income also for the years 1948, 1949 and 1950 "to show a pattern of willful fraudulent intent."

Eno, owner of the Eno Insurance Agency, has denied the government's charges that he fraudulently failed to report additional net income of $14,997.32 for the 3 years charged and owes $4,849.61 in taxes.

Personal Account Used

Principle sources of the alleged unreported income, the government has contended in the testimony of 17 witnesses, were over-riding commissions received from a Wisconsin insurance company and a Lincoln insurance company.

The government contends these commission checks were deposited to Eno's personal bank account and this taxable income was not reported on his federal tax returns.

The government has indicated it will rest its case soon after trial is resumed next Thursday.

The 51-year-old Eno is expected to take the witness stand in his own defense that there was no willful intent to defraud, as charged by the government.

Stocks Hit Record High

New York (AP)—The stock market swept forward to another record high Thursday in heavy trading. Late profit taking clipped many gains.

Gains by industrialists were reduced about 40 per cent in the final hour as traders cashed profits on the big post election rise of the last two sessions. If not for this final selling the advance would have ranked among the really big ones historically.

The quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $1,650,000,000, based on the rise in The Associated Press average.

The rise was a continuation of Wednesday's which brokers said was based on inflationary expectations due to the Democratic election victory.

Chemicals retained some wide gains. Oils, rails, building materials and a host of selected issues were on the upside. Earlier gains were chopped and in some cases erased among the steels, motors, nonferrous metals, airlines and drugs. A lower tone prevailed among rubbers, electronics and aircrafts.

The AP 60-stock average rose $1.30 to a peak of $202.70 with the industrials up $2.30 to a record high, the rails up 90 cents and the utilities up 50 cents, both to 1958 highs.

The 1,268 issues traded was the broadest market since Dec. 31, when 1,275 issues were traded. Of the total, 614 rose and 415 fell. There were 176 new highs for the year and 5 new lows.

Volume swelled to 4,890,000 shares from 4,009,000 Wednesday.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks gained while four lost ground.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregular on volume of 1,530,000 shares compared with 1,410,000 Wednesday.

Gains in railroad issues helped push the corporate bond market a little higher Thursday in heavy trading.

Government bonds were irregularly lower.

Corporate volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled a hefty $8,020,000 par value, compared with Wednesday's $8,075,000.

GRAIN FUTURES CLIMB STEADILY

Chicago (AP) — Grain futures prices made a steady climb with scarcely an interruption Thursday on the board of trade and near the close began attracting a good volume of short-covering.

The market was strong with nearly all contracts except oats ahead by a cent a bushel or more and still climbing when the gong signaled a halt to trading.

While there was some commercial buying, particularly by bakery interests, dealers said the support appeared to stem mainly from a generally friendlier attitude toward the market after Wednesday's rapid rise and fall. There was at least a moderate volume of investor buying toward reinstatement of positions that had been liquidated in the profit-taking surge of Wednesday.

Some millers were good buyers, too, following word that the International Children's Emergency Fund of the United Nations had purchased 18,000 tons of U.S. flour for relief distribution abroad.

Wheat closed ¾-1⅞ cents a bushel higher, December $1.94½; corn ¾-1⅜ higher, December old-type contract $1.12⅜-¾; oats ¼-⅝ higher, December .65¾; rye ¾-2¼ higher, December $1.31½; soybeans 1⅛-1⅝ higher, November $2.13⅜-½.

The Department of Agriculture reported it had come to terms with Israel for exports of about 37½ million dollars worth of U.S. surplus farm products to be paid for in Israeli currency.

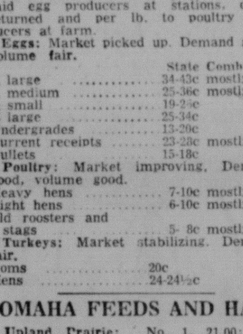
Nebraska Farmer Says:
"d-CON CLEANED UP MY RAT-INFESTED FARM!"



Read What Melvin M. Yonke, Of Crofton, Nebraska, Has To Say About d-CON:

"When I moved onto my farm, it was infested with rats. I tried lots of rat-killers, but they just didn't prove out. Then one day I heard about d-CON. And believe me, d-CON really works. It's a rat-killer that gets results. d-CON cleaned up my rat infested farm. Switching to d-CON was a great break for me!"

It's a fact — in the great corn and wheat belts of America, where farmers really know how to get rid of rats, d-CON outsells all other rat and mouse killers combined!

Farmers know that d-CON is the quick, sure, easy way to rid their property of destructive, disease-bearing rats. For rats hungrily eat d-CON's exclusive LX 3-2-1 formula, never suspect it's bait, never get bait-shy, devour it without guessing that every bite puts another nail in their coffins. d-CON actually makes rats commit suicide.

d-CON is THERMO-SEALED—always reaches you "factory fresh." Economical, too. One package of d-CON makes several bait stations.

Remember, d-CON, used as directed, is safe to use around small children, pets, poultry and livestock, yet is guaranteed to keep your property rat and mouse free forever!

'Just Can't Believe It,' Says Likely New State Treasurer

Omaha (AP)—Richard R. Larsen, 36, shook his head and repeated, "I just can't believe it."

But apparently nothing stood between Larsen and the job of state treasurer but an undetermined number of absentee ballots and the official state canvas.

The complete Associated Press count for votes in Tuesday's election gave Larsen 190,467 to 187,900 for state Sen. Monroe Bixler.

The part-time bartender and frequent candidate in seeking the treasurer's post as a Democrat made no speeches, had no campaign cards nor posters and lived with his sister during the campaign because he had no telephone.

RICHARD R. LARSEN

Larsen isn't listed in the city directory.

The sister, Mrs. Nora Parachini, acted as his unofficial campaign manager.

Unnoticed Visit

Larsen a 3-time candidate for the treasurer's office, worked in the Douglas County treasurer's office for 3 years in at least 4 different departments.

Employes in the state treasurer's office could have gotten a preview of their possible new boss Wednesday.

"I went in there Wednesday," he said.

"I wasn't noticed."
